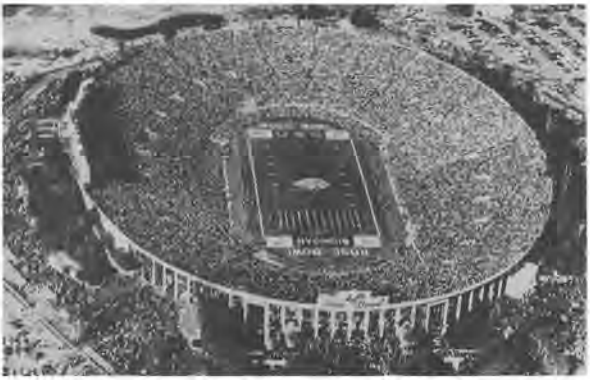
4 Bowl Wins

1980

USC: AMERICA'S NO. 1 BOWL TEAM



USC and John Robinson have an incredible record in bowl games.

The Trojans have now won their last six (including four Rose Bowls) and have both the most bowl wins (19) and highest winning percentage (.760) of any team in history. (To qualify for ranking, a team must have played in at least 10.)

Robinson has won all four of his appearances as a head coach, including three Rose Bowls (beating Michigan twice and Ohio State once) and one Bluebonnet Bowl (over Texas A&M).

USC's overall post-season record is 19-6, including a 17-6 mark in the Rose Bowl.

JOHN ROBINSON
Head Football Coach

In just four years—the length of a Presidential term—John Robinson has established himself as one of the country's foremost college football coaches.

To begin with, he's taken USC to four bowl games in four years, three of them Rose Bowls, and won them all. His teams have also finished 2nd, 12th, 1st and 2nd in the final polls, and he and the Trojans go into the 1980 season with a 20-game unbeaten streak.

Robinson's record includes the national championship (UPI poll) in 1978 with a 12-1 record and an unbeaten season in 1979 when the Trojans finished 11-0-1.

USC's bowl victories under Robinson include Rose Bowl wins of 14-6 and 17-10 over Michigan (1977, 1979) and 17-16 over Ohio State (1980) and a 47-28 rout of Texas A&M in the Bluebonnet Bowl (1977).

And for his success John was voted national Coach of the Year in 1979 by the Washington Touchdown Club and Pac-10 and West Coast Coach of the Year in both 1976 and 1978.

The 16th head coach in USC history, Robinson now has a 42-6-1 record overall for an .867 winning percentage.

When he guided USC to an 11-1 record and the Rose Bowl championship in 1976, John was the first rookie head coach from the Pac-10 to take a team to the Rose Bowl in 25 years—and the first to win it in 61.

In his USC career Robinson has also produced four straight potent offensive teams and maintained USC's great heritage of defensive excellence.

The 1976 Trojans finished third in the country in total offense with 433 yards a game and third in scoring with 34 points a game.

The 1977 Trojans wound up fourth in the nation in total offense with 451 yards a game, and, adding Bluebonnet Bowl totals, gained more yards than any USC team ever.

The 1978 team averaged 402 yards a game—and finally, in 1979, USC wound up ranked fourth and fifth in the country in total offense and scoring with 467 yards and 34 points a game. Again, the Trojans broke the school record for total offense.

Defensively, USC has finished first in the Pac-10 twice and second once in team defense under Robinson and boasted two of the greatest defensive units in the school's history in 1976 and 1978.

The 1978 team was second in the country in defense against rushing, yielding only 91 yards a game. And the 1976 team held the last 11 opponents of a tough schedule to 93 points, six of them getting a touchdown or less.

In an era when coaches are changing jobs at a rapid pace, Robinson reemphasized his commitment to USC and college football the day before the 1980 Rose Bowl by signing a new five-year contract.

"USC is a special place for both players and coaches," he says. "I know I still have the same sense of excitement I did when I took the job. And I firmly believe that playing for this school is a unique experience.

"But I also believe that we college coaches must do the best possible job of making sure our players get a wide campus experience. I want our players as ambitious about school as they are about football."

Robinson grew up with another successful coach, the retired John Madden of the Oakland Raiders. Born in Chicago July 25, 1935, and raised in San Mateo, Calif., Robinson went to grammar school with Madden and later served as the best man in his wedding.

At San Mateo's Serra High, John played football and baseball, winning Catholic All-American and All-Northern California honors at end for the football team.

At Oregon, where he received a bachelor's degree in education in 1958, Robinson was a letterman end when the Ducks won the Pacific Coast Conference title in 1957. He played briefly in Oregon's 10-7 loss to Ohio State in the Rose Bowl.

When he took the job at USC, John was well prepared. He brought with him 16 years of full-time coaching experience—12 as an assistant at Oregon (1960-71), 3 as John McKay's offensive coordinator at USC (1972-74) and 1 as backfield coach of the Oakland Raiders (1975).

The Trojan coach and his wife, Barbara, now live in La Habra, a Los Angeles suburb. They have two daughters, Teresa, 20 (now Mrs. Robert Medina), and Lynn, 19, and two sons, David, 17, and Christopher, 13.

ASSISTANT COACHES

MARV GOUX

Assistant Head Coach
Defensive Line

Sometimes you get the feeling there can't be a Trojan fan anywhere who hasn't heard of Marv Goux.

Named assistant head coach in 1977 by John Robinson, the inspirational Goux is in his 24th season on the USC staff. He was one of only two assistants to coach during the entire John McKay era, when the Trojans won four national titles and went to eight Rose Bowls.

The 48-year-old Goux has coached 11 first team All-Americans, including Gary Jeter, John Grant, Charles Weaver, Al Cowlings, Jimmy Gunn, Tim Rossovich, Damon Bame, Dan Ficca, Ron Mix, and Marlin and the late Mike McKeever.

Marv first became a USC assistant back in 1957 under Don Clark. For three years he was both head freshman coach and varsity assistant, before moving up to the varsity full-time when McKay took over in 1960.

Except for a season as a high school coach, Marv has been a Trojan since 1952, when he started at linebacker for the USC Rose Bowl team that blanked Wisconsin, 7 to 0. Before he was through as a player, Goux had started three years, including 1954 and 1955, when he went both ways, performing at both linebacker and center.

Small at 5-10 and 185 pounds, Goux made up for his lack of size with quickness and great desire. He is one of just two Trojans to twice win the Davis-Teschke Award, given anually to USC's most inspirational player. Marv won that honor in 1954 and 1955, after coming back from a back injury that sidelined him for all of 1953. He was also elected co-captain in 1955.

DON LINDSEY

Defensive Coordinator
Inside Linebackers

At 37, Don Lindsey is considered one of the most innovative young coaches in the country with a solid background in both offense and defense.

As USC's defensive coordinator under John Robinson, he deserves a great deal of the credit for Trojan defenses that have led the Pac-10 in team defense twice and finished second once in the last four years. In fact, the 1978 Trojans were second in the country in defense against rushing, yielding just 91 yards a game.

The 1976 team allowed just 93 points in winning its last 11 games, and overall in Lindsey's four years as defensive coordinator, USC has intercepted the remarkable total of 90 passes.

Eleven Trojan linebackers coached by Lindsey have gone into pro football.

Now in his tenth year on the USC staff, Lindsey has coached under Bear Bryant at Alabama, Frank Broyles at Arkansas, and, of course, five years under John McKay at USC.

Lindsey began his coaching career at Alabama under Bryant in 1965, spending two seasons as offensive and defensive backfield coach, respectively, while also earning his master's degree in education.

While Lindsey was at Alabama, the Crimson Tide won the national championship in 1965 and wound up ranked third in 1966 while compiling an 11-0 record. Don coached quarterback Scott Hunter, who broke several of Joe Namath's passing records.

From Alabama Lindsey went to Montana State where he served as defensive coordinator under Jim Sweeney in 1967. He then moved to Washington State with Sweeney for the 1968 and 1969 seasons, serving as offensive coordinator.

Before coming to USC in 1971, Don spent one year at Arkansas under Broyles, where he coached the defensive backs. He was born Sept. 17, 1943 in Camden, Arkansas.

PAUL HACKETT

Quarterbacks, Passing Game

In only seven years as a full-time assistant coach—three at California and four at USC—Paul Hackett has built a remarkable record as an outstanding teacher of the passing game.

All of his work at USC culminated the last two seasons when Paul McDonald set 17 NCAA, Pac-10 and USC records and wound up the 1979 season as the nation's third leading passer. Among McDonald's Trojan career passing marks were a completion percentage of 59.7%, 37 TD passes and 4,138 yards, all mainly accomplished in two years.

McDonald also set an NCAA record for lowest career rate of interceptions (2.6% on only 12 in 468 attempts) and a Pac-10 mark for most consecutive passes without an interception (143).

In his first year at USC in 1976, Hackett coached Vince Evans and Rob Hertel and increased their total pass completions from 49 to 125, their yardage from 910 to 1,892 and their TD passes from 4 to 18. Evans improved his completion percentage from 31% to 54%.

In 1977 Hertel set new USC season records for touchdown passes and passing yardage (since broken by McDonald), while split end Randy Simmrin, also coached by Hackett, set Trojan career marks for catches (100) and receiving yardage (2,015).

The 33-year-old Hackett was one of four new Trojan coaches hired by Robinson shortly after he took over. At California, Paul had coached All-American quarterback Steve Bartkowski, the nation's leading passer in 1974 and NFL's first draft pick in 1975; and the late Joe Roth, the Pac-8's total offense and passing leader in 1975.

Paul was a quarterback himself at the University of California at Davis, where he was a three-year starter and led the Far Western Conference in passing as a senior. He was first team all-conference his last season.

Born July 5, 1947, Hackett earned a bachelor's degree in history at U.C. Davis and a master's in physical education at Sacramento State.

JOHN JACKSON

Offensive Backs, Running Game

Now in his fifth year of coaching USC's running backs, John Jackson has had dazzling success in his first four.

In 1979, tailback Charles White, who began his Trojan career the same season Jackson did, not only was a runaway choice for the Heisman Trophy, but also set 22 NCAA, Pac-10, USC and Rose Bowl records.

White finished as the NCAA's second leading rusher of all time with 5,598 yards. His career average was 5.44 a carry, and Charlie ripped off 31 100-yard games.

Now 44, the personable Jackson has also coached unanimous All-American tailback Ricky Bell and the leading rusher from fullback in USC history, Lynn Cain. USC's running attacks have surpassed 3,000 yards in each of his four seasons.

One of four coaches hired by John Robinson shortly after he became head coach, Jackson came to USC from Illinois, where he was assisting one of the country's winningest coaches, Bob Blackman.

Jackson first joined Blackman at Dartmouth in 1970, coaching the backs and receivers for a team that went 9-0-0. When Blackman moved to Illinois in 1971, he took Jackson with him, and for five seasons, John coached the backfield for the Illini.

Previously, in 1968 and 1969, Jackson was offensive coordinator for the football team and head coach of the track team at Hofstra.

He had a successful high school career, coaching Boys High School in Brooklyn from 1965 to 1967, where he was twice named New York metropolitan Coach of the Year. While coaching at Boys High, he was also Dean of Students at his old school, Brooklyn Tech.

A 1956 graduate of NYU, Jackson earned bachelor's and master's degrees there in physical education.

John also served three years in the Marines, attaining the rank of captain. A Brooklyn native, he was born Feb. 4, 1936.

ARTIE GIGANTINO

Outside Linebackers

Energetic and enthusiastic, Artie Gigantino is in his second year on the USC staff, after spending six years as an assistant at California.

Artie coached the defensive line at Cal during the time the Bears became Pac-10 contenders and were known for their aggressive defensive play. He spent two years working with the outside linebackers as a part-time coach and graduate assistant, before taking over the line his last four.

At Cal Gigantino served on the same staff as Trojan passing coach Paul Hackett in 1973, '74 and '75. And in 1978 he was the Bears' recruiting coordinator.

In his first season at USC, Gigantino now 29, coached sophomore Chip Banks to second team All-Pac-10 honors.

Born June 14, 1951, Gigantino played linebacker, tailback and fullback and also wrestled and played baseball at J.P. Stevens High School in Edison, N.J.

At Bridgeport University in Bridgeport, Conn., Artie was a three-year starter at linebacker during seasons in which the school won 22 straight games.

When he first became a full-time assistant at Cal, Gigantino was only 23, which made him one of the youngest full-time coaches in the country.

Later, when Mike White was replaced by Roger Theder as the Bears' head coach in 1978, Gigantino was one of only three staff members to be hired back by Theder.

GIL HASKELL

Special Teams

A part-time coach his first two years at USC, Haskell was elevated to full-time status last spring and continues in his role as coach of all of USC's kicking teams.

In 1978 Gil coached Frank Jordan, who kicked 11 field goals, including the 37-yarder that beat Notre Dame with two seconds left. And among his special teams players in 1979 was Ray Butler, the nation's third-leading punt returner with a 14.4 average.

Haskell came to USC after nine years at St. Ignatius High in San Francisco, where he turned in a 34-15 record as head coach the last five, after spending four as an assistant. He was also track coach four years, winning three Catholic Athletic League titles.

Gil began his career at Riordan High, also in San Francisco, serving as line coach for three years. He coached the Riordan track team to two league titles in three seasons.

The 37-year-old Haskell played on three Far West Conference champion football teams at San Francisco State as a defensive back. He was all-conference as a senior and "Little" All-Coast second team. He had a tryout with the San Francisco 49ers.

Born September 24, 1943, Gil played football and baseball at St. Ignatius High. He was a halfback and defensive back on three St. Ignatius champion football teams of the 3-A Division in San Francisco and a catcher on two 3-A Division champion baseball squads.

Haskell's uncle, the late Dr. William O'Grady, was a part-owner of the San Francisco 49ers, and before coming to USC in 1978, Gil had not missed a 49er home game in 22 years.

HUDSON HOUCK

Offensive Line

When John Robinson became USC's head football coach in late 1975, the first man he hired was Hudson Houck.

And in three years, Hudson has coached three All-Americans, tackle Marvin Powell and guards Pat Howell and Brad Budde. Howell and Budde were both unanimous picks, and Budde was also the 1979 winner of the Lombardi Award as the outstanding lineman in the country.

Now 37, Houck came to USC after four years at Stanford, the last three as offensive line coach (1973 to 1975), but it was also a homecoming. He was a former Trojan player and freshman coach.

Born January 7, 1943, Hudson played and coached under John McKay. He was a reserve center on the national championship Trojan team of 1962, then started the last four games and lettered in 1963. Heavily counted on in 1964, Houck injured his back and played sparingly, the bad back keeping him from lettering.

A 1965 graduate of USC with a bachelor's degree in physical education, Houck was an assistant football coach and teacher at Crescenta Valley High School in 1967 and 1969. His career was interrupted twice by service in the Army.

Hudson came back to USC the first time in 1970 and spent two seasons as head freshman coach and varsity graduate assistant. His 1971 Trobabes—USC's last freshman team—went 4-0 and boasted such stars as Anthony Davis, Pat Haden, Richard Wood, Johnny McKay, Charles Phillips, Allen Carter and Marvin Cobb.

NORVAL TURNER

Secondary

Former Oregon quarterback Norv Turner once fired a touchdown pass against USC. Now he's in charge of stopping passes as coach of the Trojan secondary.

The 28-year-old Turner is in his fourth year as a full-time assistant on John Robinson's staff, after coaching the receivers and rookie quarterbacks from 1977 to 1979. Among players he coached were flanker Kevin Williams and tight ends Hoby Brenner and James Hunter, all of them first or second team All-Pac-10 picks.

Currently ninth on Oregon's all-time passing list with 1,807 yards and 11 touchdowns, Turner lettered three years for the Ducks, started as a junior and senior and was named co-captain as a senior.

USC's national champions barely defeated Oregon and Turner, 16-7, in 1974 in a game made closer by Norv's 45-yard second quarter touchdown pass to Greg Bauer.

Born May 17, 1952, Turner was a quarterback and defensive back at Alhambra High in Martinez, California, going both ways as a senior and leading his team to a 9-0 mark and league championship.

Turner's best year at Oregon was his final one when he threw for 1,261 yards, completing 99 of 202 passes. He was named ABC-TV's Player of the Game in a regionally televised 27-23 victory over Air Force.

Norv graduated from Oregon in 1975 with a bachelor's degree in history, and spent one year as a graduate assistant on the Duck staff.

JERRY ATTAWAY

Offensive Line

Jerry Attaway, in his third year on the USC staff, not only works with the offensive line but is also in charge of physical conditioning for the team.

He came to USC in 1978 from Utah State where he spent two years on the staff of former Trojan assistant Bruce Snyder.

Jerry played football with Trojan assistant Paul Hackett as a junior cornerback at UC Davis but was forced to quit in his first year there after suffering cardiac arrest. After a year away from the sport, he returned to assist Hackett with the UC Davis frosh.

At the same time he was a UC Davis coach, Attaway continued his education at Sacramento State and graduated in 1972 with a physical education degree.

Following graduation, he served as an assistant coach at College of Idaho for three years.

The 34-year-old Attaway was born in Susanville, January 3, 1946, and played four sports at Lassen High there. He played football for two years at Yuba Junior College before transferring to UC Davis.

NATE SHAW

Receivers

Nate Shaw, the newest member of the USC football coaching staff, has already made a big mark as a Trojan.

He was a first team All-American cornerback for the Trojans in 1966 and finished his career with 10 interceptions for 165 yards.

The 35-year-old Shaw came back to USC from Oregon State where he coached the secondary for four years (1976-79) and turned out a pair of All-Pac-10 defensive backs, Jay Locey (1976) and Tim Smith (1978). Nate coaches the wide receivers and tight ends at USC.

Born May 20, 1945 in San Diego, Shaw was a football, basketball and baseball star at San Diego Lincoln High, winning football All-American honors. He then spent a year at San Diego Junior College, where he was a second team All-American defensive back.

A three-year letterman for USC, Shaw played for the Trojans from 1964 through 1966, winning All-Coast and All-Pac-8 honors in 1965, before being named All-American in 1966.

After spending two years in the Army in Korea, Shaw played defensive back for the Rams from 1969 to mid-1971, when a knee injury ended his career.

Before going to Oregon State in 1976, Shaw coached the secondary at Los Angeles Southwest College in 1974 and 1975.

JOHN LOPES

Volunteer Assistant Coach

John Lopes, in his second year as a volunteer assistant coach, will be easily recognizable on the USC sideline this year. He'll be the one vigorously wig-wagging a series of signals to the defensive huddle before each play.

The 44-year-old Lopes also assists coaching the defense, primarily the secondary, as well as editing practice and game film footage and compiling complete and team opponent statistics.

Lopes came to USC from San Fernando High School, where he coached the secondary on the 1977 and 1978 Los Angeles City semifinalists. Among his pupils were current Trojans Malcolm Moore, Anthony Gibson and Bob McClanahan.

He guided the secondary at Crenshaw High in 1975 and 1976, where former Trojan Ricky Johnson, a linebacker last year at Troy, played for him.

Lopes was a defensive back for two local semipro teams in the early 1970s: the West Valley All-Stars and the Highland Park Eagles. He also played one year in the secondary for a Marine Corps team during his two-and-a-half year stint.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

DR. RICHARD H. PERRY

In the athletic director's office at USC there's no hint of an energy crisis.

In five years on the job, energetic Dick Perry has maintained the remarkable tradition of the country's most successful athletic department.

USC is far and away the leader in national team titles won, and, given Dick's constant support, the Trojans have added 16 more national championships in his era—nine by the men and seven by the women.

In the last five years Dick has met with more people, made more speeches, answered more urgent phone calls and solved more problems than anyone this side of a 1980 presidential candidate.

When he was appointed athletic director by USC president Dr. John Hubbard in November, 1975, Dick was an associate professor of physical education at USC, a post he had held for eight years. He had also been involved in the university leadership. A member of the faculty senate for six years, he served as president of that body in 1974-75.

And, of course, he brought a strong background in athletics to his new job. Before coming to USC, he was head basketball coach at California State University, Long Beach, for nine years and also spent three seasons there as assistant football coach.

In 1975-76, he served as president of the Southwest District of the American Alliance for Health, Physical Education and Recreation. He was president of the California Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation in 1971-72.

When Dr. Perry became head basketball coach at Long Beach in 1958, there was no scholarship help and the team was playing exclusively small colleges. He built the program to a level where the 49ers were playing intersectional games with such teams as Oklahoma State, Wichita State and Creighton and playing double-headers with USC and UCLA.

His Long Beach team reached the finals of the College Division Western Regional playoffs in 1960.

Dick left Cal State, Long Beach when offered an associate professorship at USC in 1967 and received his Ph.D. degree from USC in 1968.

Born July 13, 1929, Dick graduated from Long Beach Wilson High School and received his bachelor's degree from the College of Emporia in Kansas in 1951 and his master's degree from Kansas State Teachers College.

Dick and his wife, Donna, live in Garden Grove. They have four children: Jim, 28, a graduate of USC and assistant basketball coach at Loyola (L.A.); Joan, 24, USC graduate; John, 22, a senior football player at USC; and Janelle, 14.

A LOOK AT USC IN 1980 . . .

John Robinson and USC are on a hot streak.

In four years, the 45-year-old coach has guided his Trojans to a 42-6-1 record, finished in the top two of the polls three times (first in 1978 and second in both 1976 and 1979, and won four straight bowl games. In fact, he and the Trojans will go into the 1980 season riding a 20-game unbeaten streak.

Robinson's Trojans will also go into 1980 facing a host of big challenges.

Foremost among them is the replacement of nine starters from last year's unbeaten powerhouse (11-0-1), including Heisman Trophy winning tailback Charles White, quarterback Paul McDonald, who set 17 NCAA, Pac-10 and USC passing records; Lombardi Award winning guard Brad Budde and All-American linebacker Dennis Johnson.

And the Trojans will also face a schedule that has them on the road four of the first six weeks, including a rugged opener at Tennessee. After that, the schedule doesn't get any easier. In order, USC must face California, Stanford, Washington, UCLA and Notre Dame down the stretch.

"If we're able to get off to a good start and keep improving, we could be a very good team by November," says Robinson. "But we've got to improve quickly.

"I see three big questions for us. First is inexperience at key offensive positions—quarterback, fullback, center and one guard . . . even tailback to some degree.

"Next is the schedule with four of the first six games on the road and five showdown games in a row at the end.

"Then, like all teams in this age of limited scholarships (90 total in the Pac-10), we don't have the depth to survive a rash of injuries, particularly in the offensive line.

"Like I said in the spring, our strength is on defense. We return veteran players at almost every position, including some really outstanding talent. It's one of the smaller ones we've had, but it will have excellent speed. In fact, we have the potential to have a great defense, but our players must develop that fierce tenacity that all great defenses have. They've got to be very good from the first kickoff.

"Offensively, it's not realistic for us to hope we can average anywhere near what we did last year (471 yards a game). What we've got to be is efficient at the start—which is difficult when you're inexperienced—and we've got to keep improving."

USC goes into the season with 13 starters back—seven on defense and six on offense. Both units also return two part-time starters. The Trojans are shooting for their 11th Rose Bowl trip in 15 years.

OFFENSE

In Robinson's four years as head coach, the Trojans have not only continued the great success of their tailback-oriented running game, but also averaged 19 touchdown passes a season.

The new quarterback is fifth-year senior Gordon Adams, originally a walk-on at USC but a young man gifted with great intelligence, a quick arm and good leadership ability.

"Gordon has spent years preparing for this job, and I'm confident he'll be very good," says Robinson. "It could take him four or five games to fully reach his potential, but he can really drill the ball—short and long—and he's also quick afoot."

Adams, who played in only one game at USC before 1980, is backed by inexperienced sophomores Scott Tinsley and Jim Arrivey.

The successor to Charles White and all the other great Trojan tailbacks is long-striding, 202-pound junior Marcus Allen. The starting fullback in 1979, Allen not only blocked ferociously for White, but also ran for 649 yards and 8 touchdowns himself, averaged 5.7 a carry and caught 22 passes for a 14.3 average per catch.

"Marcus can change directions about as well as anyone you'll see and also has the strength to keep lunging ahead and get the extra yard," says Robinson. "Believe me, he's going to be one of the three or four best backs in the country."

Fullback, meanwhile, belongs to a committee as the season starts—juniors Paul DiLulo (17 career carries, 3.7 average) and Doug MacKenzie (13 career carries, 4.7 average) and sophomore JC transfer Tom Jefferson.

"Getting successful play at this position is one of the keys to our season," says Robinson.

Outside, there's an outstanding corps of wide receivers and tight ends.

Senior flanker Kevin Williams goes into the season with 21 touchdowns on 52 career catches, a career average of 20.1 and seven scores from 30 yards out or further. He needs one more TD catch to tie the Pac-10 record, which should be no problem. He had 10 in 1978 and 8 in 1979.

"Kevin may be little (5-9, 165), but he's the best clutch wide receiver I've ever seen at USC," says Robinson. "Not only does he have great physical gifts—blazing speed and outstanding hands—but he's also tremendously competitive. In my view he's already an All-American."

A first team All-Pac-10 choice, Williams has led off three straight Trojan national championship 400-meter relay teams and has run 100 yards (9.4) and 100 meters (10.27) in world class times.

The Trojans also line up another outstanding senior at flanker, Vic Rakhshani, and call the position "V-back" when they do. Rakhshani is both an outstanding receiver and blocker and turned his 8 catches last season into four scores.

Sophomore Timmy White, another sprinter-quick receiver and a star of the future, provides outstanding depth at flanker.

The starting job at split end is shared by two fast, acrobatic sophomores, Malcolm Moore (4 catches, 18.6 average) and Jeff Simmons (1 catch, 1 yard, 1 TD).

"Tight end," says Robinson, "is probably the strongest position on the team. Hoby Brenner and James Hunter are two of the best in America."

Both are seniors. Brenner was first team All-Pac-10 in 1979 and Hunter was second team All-Pac-10 in 1978. Last year Brenner caught 21 passes for a 12.9 average and 2 touchdowns, while Hunter, despite nagging injuries, snared 8 passes for a 6.9 average and 1 touchdown. They often play together in a two-tight end alignment.

line, including senior All-Pac-10 tackle Keith Van Horne and junior All-Pac-10 guard Roy Foster. Both were pre-season All-Americans, both play on the strong side, and, lining up next to Brenner, they give USC three first team all-league players in a row.

"Van Horne may be the best offensive tackle in the country," says Robinson. "He's got great size, intelligence and athletic ability and enough speed to play guard. He's a definite candidate for the Lombardi and Outland awards.

"Foster is tremendously gifted with outstanding speed and strength and very quick feet. He's also very ambitious, and if his rate of improvement continues, he'll be one of USC's greatest guards ever."

DEFENSE

The Trojan defense returns three first team All-Pac-10 players who were all pre-season All-Americans on one team or other . . . safeties Ronnie Lott and Dennis Smith and inside linebacker Riki Gray.

Lott and Smith, both seniors, head a secondary that should be excellent. At rover or strong safety, Lott was fifth on last year's unbeaten team in tackles with 74, broke up 9 passes, intercepted 3 more (including a 30-yarder for a TD), recovered 2 fumbles and made 7 tackles for losses on safety blitzes.

"Ronnie has great instinct for the ball and hits like a linebacker, but at the same time he's one of the best mental competitors we've ever had at USC," says Robinson. "His intensity reminds me of (ex-Trojan) Lynn Swann's. He's simply one of the finest defensive players I've ever been around."

At free safety, Smith already has a dozen career interceptions and has returned them an average of 15.5 yards. Last fall he was second on the defense in minutes played, made 68 tackles, broke up 11 passes, called signals in the secondary for the second straight year and had 3 interceptions. He had 7 interceptions as a sophomore and has high jumped 7-2.

"Dennis is a tremendously gifted athlete," says Robinson, "who's got size, speed, great jumping ability and a fierce willingness to hit. He's also got outstanding range."

Also back as a secondary starter is senior cornerback Jeff Fisher, who had 66 tackles himself, with 3 fumble recoveries and 8 passes broken up in his first year at the position after playing wide receiver. Two other potential starters at corner are sophomore Joey Browner (26 tackles, 1 interception last season) and senior Don Jones (28 tackles).

Senior Kenney Moore (30 tackles) is a part-time starter who can play free safety, rover or corner.

At inside linebacker Gray is on his way to being a four-year starter and was the team's second leading tackler as a sophomore with 96 (second only to graduated All-American Dennis Johnson).

"Riki is a natural linebacker, because he brings such quickness and dramatic intensity to the position," says Robinson. "He's aggressive, he's tough and he's a leader. He's also one of the most competitive players I've ever seen."

Next to Gray on the inside is senior Steve Busick (31 tackles last fall), who's been injury-plagued throughout his career but appears ready to make a big impact as a starter.

At the two starting outside linebacker spots are junior Chip Banks, a returning regular, and senior Eric Scoggins, a part-time starter for two years. Banks was the team's fourth leading tackler last year with 76, led the team in stops for a loss with 12 for 62 yards, knocked down 6 passes, intercepted another and was second team All-Pac-10.

"Banks is on his way to becoming a great player," says Robinson. "He's got enormous physical gifts—size, speed, balance and the natural instincts to take him as far as he wants to go."

Scoggins, who had 44 tackles as a sophomore and 41 as a junior, was named ABC-TV Defensive Player of the Game for his play in the Trojans' 24-14 win over Alabama in Birmingham in 1978.

"I feel very good about our line," says Robinson, "not only because of the talent there, but because we have four potential starters for three positions."

The four are three-year starter Ty Sperling, a senior, and junior Dennis Edwards at tackle, both regulars last fall; sophomore George Achica at nose guard and junior Charles Ussery at tackle.

Sperling made 55 tackles, including 6 for a loss, and recovered a fumble in 1979, while Edwards brought down 77 runners (third on the team), had 9 tackles for a loss and knocked down 2 passes. Edwards has 25 tackles for a loss in his first two years as a Trojan.

Achica was the No. 1 reserve in the defensive line as a freshman, making 40 tackles in 62 minutes, including 9 for a loss, and recovering a fumble. Ussery, who showed dramatic improvement in the spring, made 8 tackles in 23 minutes, 2 for a loss.

KICKERS

Both of last season's kickers return. Punter David Pryor averaged 36.7 yards as a freshman last fall, but more impressive was his record of kicking the ball either dead or out of bounds inside the 20 a total of 19 times in 21 attempts.

Senior placekicker Eric Hipp was only 6 for 15 in field goals in 1979, but he did hit 5 of his last 7, including a 45-yarder that beat Cal and a 41-yarder against Ohio State in the Rose Bowl. He also connected on 49 of 50 extra points, with the only miss being a block.

USC PLAYER SKETCHES

(Players are listed in alphabetical order by position.)

OFFENSE

QUARTERBACKS

(2) GORDON ADAMS—6-1, 195, 22, Sr.

When freshman walk-on Gordon Adams asked John Robinson for a try-out in the fall of 1976, Robinson told him flat out he'd never play at USC. Now he's USC's starting quarterback.

Gordon's sole game experience in four years at USC before this fall was playing in the fourth quarter of the 42-5 victory over Oregon State in 1979. He threw only one pass, which was intercepted. But last spring he beat out three other candidates for the starting job.

"Gordon is the type of quarterback who can make our offense go," says Robinson. "He's got a very strong arm and a very quick mind, which are two primary talents we look for.

"He can really drill the ball—short and long. He has a true kind of deep throw that doesn't fade to either side. And on shorter passes, he throws the ball on a line. He's also quick afoot.

"I believe he'll be a confident, successful quarterback for us."

Adams was first allowed to practice with the Trojans in the spring of 1977 and spent most of his years facing the first string defense in the role of the opponent quarterback USC would face that week.

"Man, that guy has taken some shots," said defensive line coach Marv Goux. "He's really been vaccinated."

But Adams kept plugging away.

"They told me that walk-ons don't play at USC—not at quarterback anyway," he says. "They said I could hang around, but not to get my hopes up. I appreciated their honesty and approached the game within those guidelines. I knew patience would be the word of the day. Turned out, it was the word of years.

"My first goal was to make the team and be considered part of it. When I got to go to the Bluebonnet Bowl in 1977, it was the biggest thrill of my life.

"But my long range goal was to win the job as quarterback in 1980 after Paul McDonald graduated. I just tried to learn and improve and be ready for my chance . . . and take it."

Gordon says he had an opportunity to go to Dartmouth, but since his father, grandfather and uncles all went to USC, he was determined to try football as a Trojan.

He was last a full-time player at Newport Harbor High School, where he started in 1974 and 1975 and quarterbacked his teams to 10-2 and 5-4 records. He guided the '74 team to the Sunset League title and into the CIF 4-A semifinals. As a junior Adams threw for 943 yards and 9 TD's, completing 45% of his passes. As a senior he passed for 1,004 yards and 7 TD's, completing 42.7%. His best game was a 251-yard, 3-touchdown passing performance in a 23-20 loss to Loara High.

Gordon won All-Sunset League honors in both football and baseball (as a first baseman), was student body president and placed 31st in his graduating class of 683.

A good all-around athlete, Adams is an accomplished racquetball player and also skis and plays tennis. He's also an excellent student. He earned his bachelor's degree in business last spring, finishing with an outstanding 3.70 grade point average. This fall he's started work on a second undergraduate degree—in international relations.

(18) JIM ARRIVEY—6-5, 202, 20, So.

Redshirted in 1978, Arrivey appeared briefly against Minnesota last season. He goes into the fall battling classmate Scott Tinsley for the backup quarterback job.

"Jim has natural athletic ability, and at times he's thrown very well in practice," says John Robinson. "But he's been inconsistent. That should improve with maturity, because he does have fine physical gifts, including great height."

Arrivey was an outstanding three-sport athlete at Shorecrest High in Seattle, where he led the Metropolitan League in passing as a senior, throwing for 1,200 yards and 12 TD's. He led his team to an 8-2 mark and second place and was the all-league quarterback. In his best game he hit 14 of 26 for 220 yards and the game-winning 73-yard scoring pass.

For the basketball team Jim broke the school rebounding record, averaged 16 points a game and captained a squad that went 18-6. In track he high jumped 6-5.

He also remembers a not-so-brilliant achievement when he punted from midfield—and the ball sailed out of bounds after traveling exactly 4 yards. His favorite pastime now, Arrivey says, "is trying to get out of the city rat race." A good student, he has an overall 2.97 grade point average as a public administration major.

(7) GEORGE PONCE—6-4, 220, 20, So.

Ponce was redshirted in 1978, then missed spring practice in 1979, pitching for the JV baseball team.

"George, like our other young quarterbacks, is still developing," says John Robinson. "He's got a strong, true arm and he's making progress. With more maturity, he can become a fine quarterback."

A prep All-American quarterback (Coach & Athlete team) at Pius X, Ponce completed 81 of 147 passes (55%) for 4 touchdowns and ran for 171 yards and 4 more scores as a senior. He also averaged 39 yards as the team's punter and was the placekicker. A two-year starter, he guided Pius to 11-2 and 5-3-1 seasons. In baseball he had a 19-11 career record as a pitcher, including a 9-3 mark as a junior.

A public administration major, Ponce says he loves to go fishing.

(15) SCOTT TINSLEY—6-2, 195, 21, So.

Tinsley played more than any of the young quarterbacks in 1979, completing 4 of 7 passes for 59 yards against Minnesota, 2 of 3 for 29 against Washington State and appearing briefly against UCLA. He was also the holder on placekicks the last half of the season.

"Scott's competitiveness and leadership ability are outstanding," says John Robinson, "and his arm is developing. He's got a good sense of timing as a passer, but he's still got to strengthen that arm some more."

Redshirted in 1978, Tinsley and Jim Arrivey go into the fall battling for the backup quarterback job. Scott directed the Trojans on scoring drives of 44 and 79 yards against Minnesota last season, finishing off the last one with a one-yard scoring toss to flanker Jeff Simmons.

He had a great career at Putnam City West High in Oklahoma City, making three All-American teams (Parade, Scholastic Coach, National High School Coaches) and leading his team into the Oklahoma Class 4-A finals for two straight years. He completed 165 of 311 passes as a senior (53%) for 2,278 yards and 19 TD's. For his two-year career (he was a starting defensive back as a sophomore), Tinsley hit 271 of 571 passes for 3,980 yards and 31 TD's and ran for 13 more scores.

As a basketball player Scott averaged 15.7 and 17 points his last two years and was All-Oklahoma City. He was also a two-year all-city choice in baseball, batting over .350 both seasons.

A business major, Tinsley has a cumulative grade point average of 3.09. He says his favorite pastime is water skiing.

TAILBACKS

(33) MARCUS ALLEN—6-2, 202, 20, Jr.

Here is USC's next great tailback.

Marcus Allen had never taken a hand-off before he came to USC, but he was moved to tailback from the secondary just before his freshman season (1978) and responded with 171 yards and a 5.5 average as Charles White's backup. Then in 1979 he had a brilliant year as the starting fullback.

As White's hard-hitting lead blocker (the first time in his life he'd ever blocked), Marcus not only cleared the way for the Heisman Trophy winner, but ran for 649 yards and 8 touchdowns himself, averaged 5.7 a carry and caught 22 passes for a 14.3 average per catch.

He caught passes in 11 of 12 games, and included in his running totals was a 105-yard, 20-carry day at fullback against Texas Tech, when White sat out the second half with an injury.

"Marcus far surpassed our expectations as a fullback," says John Robinson, "and he'll be an outstanding tailback, too. He can change directions about as well as anyone you'll see—with a great ability to make tacklers miss in a flowing kind of way. He also has the talent to keep lunging forward and get the extra yard.

"Believe me, he's going to be one of the three or four best backs in the country."

Besides his 105-yard day against Texas Tech last season, Allen also rushed for 74 yards on 13 tries (Stanford), 72 on 5 (Washington State), 65 on 8 (California), 54 on 7 (Minnesota) and 53 against both Oregon State (13 carries) and Washington (10 carries). He scored the winning TD in the showdown with Washington, dashing 10 yards up the middle and had other double-figure touchdown runs of 15 and 11 yards.

In his freshman season, Allen's best game was 68 yards on 15 carries against Oregon State.

Bright and outgoing, Marcus is aware of the heritage at tailback at USC.

"I think about it a lot—what it means to uphold such a prestigious position," he says. "I'm familiar with the legacy and know it's the most well known position in college football. I know it's the opportunity of a lifetime for me.

"But what must be important to me right now are things a little more basic, like holding onto the football. I've got great expectations and I guess a lot of other people do, too. But what I can't afford to do is put a lot of pressure on myself. My approach is to take it easy and let the experience take its course."

Allen's flowing running style has been compared to O.J. Simpson's, and he's occasionally been called "Little Juice."

"When I was a little kid I used to watch O.J. on TV, and I made up my mind that I wanted to come to USC and play football," he says. "O.J., Julius Erving and Muhammad Ali are my biggest sports heroes because they're intelligent men who have utilized all their abilities to accomplish what they want—both on the field, on the court, in the ring and in life."

Allen has also analyzed running and compared it to art. "It's like painting," he says. "You have to let it flow."

Marcus had a remarkable record at Lincoln High School in San Diego, where he quarterbacked his team to the city title (12-0-1) in 1977 and was named CIF San Diego Section Player of the Year, California Prep Athlete of the Year and on three All-American teams (Scholastic Coach, Parade, National High School Coaches).

As a senior he completed 145 of 300 passes for 1,900 yards and 18 TD's and ran 97 times for 1,198 yards (12.4 average) and 12 more scores. Playing safety on defense, he intercepted 11 passes, ran back 4 for touchdowns and made 311 tackles.

In the 34-6 championship win over Kearney, he scored all 5 touchdowns on runs of 85, 30, 20 and 10 yards and on a 60-yard interception return. At USC he's a public administration major.

(28) MICHAEL DAVIS—6-0, 185, 21, Jr.

Nagged by injuries in his Trojan career, Davis has played very little so far. He carried twice as a 1977 freshman, was redshirted in 1978 and carried once last season. He had a 17-yard punt return in 1977.

"Those injuries have slowed Michael's career," says John Robinson, "and he hasn't had the opportunity to prove himself. But he'll be bidding for the No. 2 tailback job this season. He's still learning the position, but he has outstanding speed and will also be a kickoff returner."

Davis played at San Bernardino High School, rushing for 1,100 yards as a senior, although he missed two league games with an injury. He scored 5 touchdowns in one game and was a sprinter in track, running 9.7 in the 100 and 49.8 in the 440.

A public administration major, Davis is married (his wife's name is Pat), and he says he enjoys bowling and skating. He remembers with embarrassment a game in high school when he was tackled fiercely and his pants were torn off.

(24) ANTHONY GIBSON—5-10, 180, 18, So.

Another in a long line of great San Fernando High School running backs (including ex-Trojans Anthony Davis and Charles White), Gibson is a contender for the backup tailback job this season. As a freshman he averaged 6.6 yards on 17 carries.

"Anthony is growing stronger as a runner and learning our offense quickly," says John Robinson. "He's also fast and he's tough."

Gibson's best game as a 1979 freshman was 65 yards on 6 carries against Minnesota, including a 33-yard sprint on the last play of the game and a 19-yard sweep. He ran for 36 yards on 7 carries against Oregon State.

A Scholastic Coach All-American and first team All-Los Angeles City pick at San Fernando, Anthony rushed for 1,066 yards and an 11.8 average as a senior, including a 92-yard TD jaunt. He also ran a 9.6 100 for the track team and lettered in basketball.

An industrial engineering major, Gibson had the highest grade point average on his team at San Fernando and turned down a scholarship to Harvard. He says he likes to play backgammon and go dancing in his spare time. "I came to USC," Gibson says, "for the opportunity to combine a quality education with the chance to play with and against the best college football players in America."

(36) MICHAEL HARPER—5-10, 180, 19, So.

As a freshman last season, Harper was the leading Trojan rusher against Oregon State when he came off the bench to sprint for 126 yards on 20 carries and score twice. For the season he gained 174 yards and averaged 6.0 a carry.

His bid for the No. 2 tailback job—which he's still a candidate for—was cut short last spring when he suffered a dislocated shoulder after only four days of practice.

"Michael has great quickness and great ability to recognize the hole quickly and go for it," says John Robinson. "His biggest previous problem has been a lack of weight, but he's maturing and shows evidence of being an outstanding back."

In that Oregon State game, Harper ran 47 yards to the Beaver five on his first college carry and then scored from the one. He also scored on a five-yard pitch and later in the season dove over from the one for a TD against Minnesota.

As a senior at Hickman Mills High School in Kansas City, Harper rushed for 2,318 yards, averaged 7.7 a carry, returned 9 punts for a 17.5 average and 7 kickoffs for a 35.6 average and scored 33 touchdowns. He was All-State in Missouri and also All-American (Scholastic Coach, Parade teams). He had six 200-yard games, including one of 348 in the rain, and once scored six TD's in a single game. In track Michael ran a 9.5 100 and a 48.5 440.

A business administration major, Harper relaxes by listening to music and admires Walter Payton and Muhammad Ali. He came halfway across the country to USC, "because it has a good program, offers great opportunity and has good weather. Being away from home will also help me become independent and mature," he adds.

FULLBACKS

(38) PAUL DiLULO—6-1, 225, 21, Jr.

Coming off a good spring, DiLulo goes into the fall listed as the starting fullback—just ahead of Doug MacKenzie.

"Fullback is one of the keys to our season, and Paul is a big key to our success at fullback," says John Robinson. "He's developed into a very fine blocker, and he's improving as a runner. He must come through for us."

DiLulo had ankle surgery for removal of bone chips in the spring of 1979 and then was further slowed during the season by a sprained knee and sprained ankle, so he wound up with just 8 carries for 27 yards. For much of 1978 he was the Trojans' No. 2 fullback behind Lynn Cain, running 9 times for 36 yards, despite another severe ankle sprain.

Born in Billings, Mont., DiLulo was an All-State fullback in Idaho at Boise High School and also a Coach & Athlete

All-American. He rushed for 1,094 yards as a senior, scoring 14 TD's and breaking off five scoring runs of longer than 75 yards. He also ranked 9th in the country in the prep discus with a mark of 192 feet and put the 12-pound high school shot 61 feet.

(39) DOUG MacKENZIE—6-0, 210, 21, Jr.

The backup fullback to Marcus Allen in 1979, MacKenzie goes into fall fighting Paul DiLulo for the job in 1980.

"Doug is very physical and has shown steady improvement," says John Robinson. "He's a fine blocker."

MacKenzie rushed for 51 yards on 11 carries last season, including 41 yards and a long of 20 against Oregon State. On the season he also caught 3 passes. He was redshirted in 1977 and played briefly at fullback in 1978.

Doug was the leading ball carrier for Channel League Champion San Marcos High in 1976, rushing for 920 yards on 160 carries (5.8 average) and 8 TD's. He was named an honorable mention All-American (Joe Namath Magazine team) and first team all-league. He was also the league shot put champ with a toss of 57-4½.

A public administration major, Doug likes to go fishing and play basketball in his spare time. He still remembers sheepishly the game in high school when he went into the huddle and found out he had joined up with the other team!

(31) BOB McCLANAHAN—6-0, 200, 19, So.

Another of those great runners out of San Fernando High, McClanahan was a prep teammate of USC tailback Anthony Gibson. He may even play some tailback himself.

"I'm very impressed with Bob's ability to run the ball," says John Robinson. "He's got great quickness and can be an outstanding ball carrier here, either at fullback or tailback. He could play both positions this season."

McClanahan carried twice as a freshman for 16 yards. At San Fernando he was a second team All-Los Angeles City pick, rushing for 1,053 yards and an 8.7 average as a senior. He also scored 13 touchdowns, including bursts of 39 and 42 yards on a 236-yard rushing day against Taft.

A business major at USC, Bob is the nephew of Minnesota Viking runner Brent McClanahan.

WIDE RECEIVERS

(25) BRAD ANDERSON—6-1, 155, 22, Jr.

Redshirted in 1979, Anderson was a reserve split end in 1978 and now in 1980 who has yet to catch a pass as a Trojan. But he's got excellent hands.

"Brad lacks only size," says John Robinson, "but he has outstanding hands and runs meticulous patterns. There's not a harder working player on the team."

At Pinole High in Northern California, Anderson snagged 46 passes for 804 yards, 12 TD's and a 17.5 average as a senior to pace his team to its second straight North Coast Section 4-A title. He had 7 catches for 90 yards and 2 TD's in the title game, including the winning catch. He was All-Northern California, All-Bay Area and All-East Bay and the league high hurdle champ with a mark of 14.3.

His father, George, is the head trainer for the Oakland Raiders, and Brad has spent several summers learning the fine points of pass receiving from Raider stars Fred Biletnikoff and Cliff Branch. A public administration major, Anderson loves water skiing, snow skiing, swimming and golf.

(44) JAY CHAMPLAIN—6-3, 185, 21, Jr.

A reserve split end, Champlain played briefly in 1977 and 1979 and was redshirted in 1978. He came to USC from St. Francis High School where he caught 25 passes for a dazzling 635 yards (25.4 average) as a senior, scoring 4 touchdowns. He also averaged 42.2 yards as a senior punter and kicked 5 of 7 field goals in his two years.

Defensively at St. Francis, Champlain was the starting safety for three years winning second team All-CIF 4-A honors as a defensive back. He was also All-San Gabriel Valley and All-Del Rey League as a receiver. He saw limited action last spring after post-season knee surgery to repair cartilage damage.

"Champlain is a very competitive athlete whose progress has been slowed by injury," says John Robinson. "If he's healthy this fall he can help us as a special teams player and backup receiver."

A business administration major with an overall grade point average of 2.92, Champion loves water skiing, fishing and playing softball.

(5) SPEEDY HART—6-0, 195, 22, Sr.

Speedy Hart is one of the more interesting stories on the Trojan team. He transferred to USC in the fall of 1978 from fierce rival Notre Dame, after playing in two games for the Irish in 1976 and six as a sophomore in 1977. He caught a 31-yard touchdown pass against Georgia Tech in 1977 in a 69-14 Notre Dame victory. As a university transfer, he had to sit out the 1978 season. He was on the Trojan squad last year, but didn't get into a game.

At St. Mary's High in Phoenix, Speedy—whose real name is Alcee—was a unanimous All-American in 1975 (Parade, Scholastic Coach, Coach & Athlete) and set school career records for most catches (119), most yards receiving (2,176), most TD passes caught (29) and most TD passes caught in a season (14 as a senior). He snagged 48 for 906 yards his last year and also captained the football, basketball and track teams, was elected student body president and had his jersey number retired.

"Speedy is a physical receiver who catches the ball in a crowd very well," says John Robinson. "He's a solid medium-range threat at flanker."

A pre-law major, Hart says he likes racquetball, swimming and horseback riding. "Notre Dame people were upset I left there," he says, "but I don't have any bad feelings. I just thought it would be better for me at USC. My parents are happy I'm here, too. They're much closer to me."

(22) MALCOLM MOORE—6-5½, 218, 19, So.

Youngest of four football playing brothers—including ex-Trojan fullback Manfred Moore and senior Trojan defensive back Kenney Moore—Malcolm goes into the fall listed as co-starter at split end with Jeff Simmons.

"Moore has the potential for greatness," says John Robinson. "He's got size, speed, toughness, great catching ability and enthusiasm for the game."

As a 1979 freshman, Malcolm played on the kick teams and also snagged 4 passes—3 against Minnesota for gains of 20, 19 and 11 yards. The 20-yarder was a spectacular one-handed grab. He caught one for 25 yards against Washington State.

The latest Moore, like his brothers, came from San Fernando High, where he made three All-American teams (Coach & Athlete, Parade, Scholastic Coach) and was a two-time All-Los Angeles City pick. He was also a teammate of current Trojan running backs Anthony Gibson and Bob McClanahan. Playing both split end and tight end, Malcolm caught 32 passes for 805 yards (25.1-yard average) and 13 TD's on a Wishbone team that threw only 111 times.

A public administration major, Moore says he likes to dance and go to the beach in his spare time. "It's been an unbelievable advantage having my older brothers around," he says. "I've learned so much from them—about playing football and about life in general."

(29) JEFF SIMMONS—6-3, 185, 20, So.

Late in last season's Minnesota game, Jeff Simmons caught a one-yard touchdown pass from fellow freshman Scott Tinsley. It was his only catch of the season, but a lot more are on the way. He goes into fall as the co-starter at split end with Malcolm Moore.

"Jeff is a lot like (ex-Trojan) Danny Garcia," says John Robinson. "He's got great hands and tremendous concentration when he's going after the ball. He and Moore give us two excellent players at split end."

Simmons was having a fine spring when he fractured his scapula (back of the shoulder), but doctors predicted he'd definitely be ready by fall. Last season he also appeared on the special teams. He was redshirted in 1978.

A teammate of USC defensive tackle Dennis Edwards at Edison High in Stockton, Simmons set a school career receiving record with 89 catches in two years. He was All-City and All-San Joaquin Athletic Association in both football and basketball, averaging 21.5 points a game as a senior in basketball and being named Player of the Year in his league and Stockton. As a football player he also ran an interception back 70 yards for a score.

In his spare time, Jeff says he likes to read, play basketball, listen to music and be with his girl friend. His biggest sports heroes? "Lynn Swann, Randy Simmrin, Calvin Sweeney and 'Spiderman' because they're all high fliers and always around the action."

As a student, Jeff is a business major.

(6) TIMMY WHITE—5-11½, 180, 20, So.

John Robinson is excited about the future of Timmy White.

"He's a lot like Kevin Williams—but a little bigger," says the coach. "He's got enormous potential and will develop into one of the best receivers in America. He has a lot to learn, but he's learning fast.

"He'll be one of the key players on the 1980 team."

As a redshirt freshman, Timmy played only 4 minutes and didn't catch a pass, but he'll back up Williams at flanker in 1980 and also return punts. He worked at quarterback the first few days of spring ball—his high school position—but was moved permanently to flanker after that.

Intensely recruited, White was a high school All-American at quarterback (Coach & Athlete and Parade teams), starting three years for Asbury Park High in South Belmar, N.J. As a senior he rushed for 740 yards (8.2 average), scored 8 TD's (including a 93-yard run) and completed 30 of 67 passes. In one game he ran for 240 yards, including scoring jaunts of 80 and 90 yards.

As a trackman he was Central Jersey champion in the 100 and 220, state indoor champ in the 60 and Eastern States champ in the 220, all in 1978. He had official clockings of 9.6 in the 100, 21.3 in the 220 and 48.3 in the 440, anchoring his school's mile relay team to a state record.

Listing his major as "undecided," White says he may major in psychology. Certainly, he likes to analyze people and himself. "If you're from the East, you discover Southern California is a real kick back type of place," he says. "It's a lot slower here. I even had to learn to walk more slowly.

"As a person I'm a very emotional guy, and I have thousands of up and down moods. But even when I'm down, I've never felt homesick. There's nothing really wrong with Asbury Park, but I'd become the water boy before I'd leave USC."

Timmy can also laugh at himself. "In one practice I made this great dive for a pass," he said. "Only the ball must have been thrown about 30 yards over my head."

(8) KEVIN WILLIAMS—5-9, 165, 22, Sr.

It's no exaggeration to say Williams might be the most dangerous pass receiver in college ball today.

The man his teammates call "Bug" goes into his senior season just one touchdown catch away from the Pac-10's career record of 22. He's scored his USC-record 21 TD's on just 52 catches, and his career average stands at 20.1 yards a play.

"Kevin," says John Robinson, "is one of the most dramatic big play people I've ever seen, and the most devastating deep receiver I've ever been around. He's like Willie Mays. He's got that great ability to run fast, take a peak, then reach out and grab the ball.

"But not only does he have great physical gifts—blazing speed and outstanding hands—but his prime asset is his tremendous competitiveness. We've got to get him the ball more. We need to hit him with short or medium range passes and let him run. In my view he's an All-American right now."

Honors Kevin already has won include first team All-Pac-10 in 1978, second team All-Pac-10 in 1979 and second team All-West Coast in 1979.

Leadoff runner on three straight USC national championship 400-meter relay teams (including last spring), Williams has run 100 meters in 10.27 and 100 yards in 9.4. He's scored 7 of his TD's on catches of 30 yards or longer. And he excells in big games.

His bombs include a 53-yarder that helped beat Ohio State in the 1980 Rose Bowl, a 40-yarder in the showdown win over Alabama in 1978, a 40-yarder to help beat UCLA in 1977 and a 30-yarder in the 1978 victory over Notre Dame. Last season he also caught the winning 8-yard TD pass against LSU with only 32 seconds left.

As a junior Kevin scored 8 touchdowns on 25 catches, as a sophomore he scored a stunning 10 TD's on 17 catches (including a Pac-10-record-tying 3 TD grabs vs. California), and as a freshman he scored 3 times on 10 catches. In his frosh year he also raced 18 yards to score on a flanker reverse against TCU.

A 9.4 sprinter in high school (he was California state champ as a junior), Williams finished sixth in the NCAA 100 meters in 1978. Two of the Trojan 400-meter relay teams he's run on have clocked 38.69 and 38.85 seconds, the first one the collegiate record.

At San Fernando High Williams was 1975 Los Angeles City Tri-Player of the Year with San Fernando and later USC teammates Charles White and Kenney Moore. He was named to the Parade All-American team as a senior while leading the city in rushing (1,402 yards) and scoring (151 points, 22 TD's). He was first team All-City on offense that season and first team All-City on defense as a junior. He was also City Track Athlete of the Year as a junior.

A public administration major, Williams says he doesn't worry about being double covered. "It doesn't matter if they double cover me," he says. "That means they're going to leave the split end or tight end open. After awhile, they're going to get tired of letting them catch the ball. They'll revert to man-to-man defense. And then I've got the advantage."

At 5-9 does he worry about getting hit? "When the ball is in the air I'm only thinking about catching it," he says. "Nothing else distracts my attention. But I wouldn't mind being a little taller."

How about blocking? "I swear, with USC's run-oriented offense, it would be pretty dull being a wide receiver if you didn't like to block. I love to block. Of course, I like to catch the ball, too."

TIGHT ENDS

(19) GREG BRADY—6-3, 220, 21, Jr.

In his fourth year at USC, Greg had not played in a game before this season, but figures to see action at a new position. He was a quarterback his first three seasons, but has moved to "V-back," the Trojans' combination flanker/blocking back position, to back up Vic Rakhshani.

"Greg has made a tremendous adjustment to a totally new position," says John Robinson. "He'll see action there and play extensively on the special teams. He's also become an excellent punt snapper."

In 1976 Brady was the Arizona Player of the Year, as he quarterbacked Scottsdale's Coronado High School to a 13-0 season and the state championship. His team was ranked 16th in the country, and he was named All-American on the Scholastic Coach, Parade and Joe Namath Prep Magazine teams. He threw for 1,323 yards. He also was an All-State first baseman for the baseball team, batting .430.

Greg is a public administration major who enjoys fishing and hunting, and sitting quietly with a good book and some music. His favorite sports hero is a man from the early years of the century—Jim Thorpe.

(89) HOBY BRENNER—6-5, 235, 21, Sr.

First team All-Pac-10 and first team All-West Coast as a junior, Brenner is a very good blocker with remarkable hands. He caught 21 passes for a 12.9 average per catch last season, making receptions in 11 of the 12 games, and scoring 2 touchdowns.

"Brenner's performance in 1979 was phenomenal," says John Robinson. "He wasn't even a starter as the season began, and he wound up all-league. He's given a whole new dimension to our passing game. Before, the tight end position was under-used in our passing attack, but he's changed all that. He made clutch catch after clutch catch all season."

One of those big receptions was an acrobatic 17-yarder on the LSU 10 with a minute left that set up the winning touchdown (17-12). Overall, he caught 4 for 46 yards in that game and also snagged 3 passes against Stanford and

Washington State. He had touchdown catches of 17 yards (Minnesota) and 4 yards (Washington State).

Brenner caught only 3 passes for 34 yards as a sophomore, but one was a spectacular 9-yard grab in the end zone that gave USC a 7-0 lead over Michigan in the 1979 Rose Bowl, and another was a 20-yarder that put the ball on Washington's four-yard line to set up a TD.

Hoby played eight minutes as a 1977 freshman and then tore ligaments in his knee in the spring of 1978 which led to his limited action that season.

At Fullerton High he played tailback, fullback and split end on offense and linebacker and defensive tackle on defense. As a senior he was named to the All-Orange League first team, carrying the ball for 496 yards and catching 23 passes for 299 more.

A business major, Brenner says he enjoys water and snow skiing, fishing and playing cards. "I chose USC," he says, "because the football program is the best in the nation and the business school is one of the best, too. There's a great atmosphere on our team. Nobody's cocky, because people in practice are as good or better than the people you'll face in a game."

As a freshman last season Cornwell played briefly, catching one pass—a 19-yarder from Scott Tinsley that carried to the Minnesota one. But he'll have a shot at the starting tight end job in 1981.

"Fred has improved steadily and is developing into a fine tight end," says John Robinson. "He's got two great seniors—Hoby Brenner and James Hunter—ahead of him, so he might be redshirted this year, but he'll be a fine player at USC."

A two-year starter as a tight end and defensive end for Canyon High in Saugus, Fred made the All-CIF Division II first team as a senior and second team as a junior. He caught 44 passes in his two years, started for three seasons as the center on the basketball team (12-point, 11-rebound average as a senior) and put the shot (58-4) and threw the discus (174-0) for the track team.

Cornwell is a civil engineering major who enjoys water and snow skiing and swimming. He says his favorite athlete is Magic Johnson of the Lakers.

(85) JAMES HUNTER—6-4, 235, 23, Sr.

Second team All-Pac-10 in 1978, Hunter was hampered by injuries most of 1979. He had corrective surgery on his ankle (calcium deposits removed) after the season and missed spring ball. He should be healthy this fall. Even with the injuries, James made honorable mention All-Pac-10 as a junior.

"In 1978 Hunter had a great sophomore year," said John Robinson. "He's perhaps the best blocking tight end I've ever seen at USC. He had miserable luck last year, but still contributed a lot despite his painful series of ankle injuries. I know he's coming back determined to have a great senior year."

James snagged 7 passes last season, including a 3-yarder for a key touchdown against California and caught 10 for 94 yards as a sophomore, including touchdowns of 13 yards against co-Big Ten champ Michigan State and 9 yards against Oregon State. He also had ankle surgery after his sophomore season.

In his first two years at USC, 1976 and 1977, Hunter didn't play, but the defense said he was a blocking terror in practice. He had been mainly a basketball star in high school, skipping football his senior year and making second team All-CIF as a junior center at Santa Barbara High School. He played tight end as a sophomore and junior.

A public administration major, James keeps in shape away from football by swimming and dancing.

(80) VIC RAKHSHANI—6-3, 225, 22, Sr.

USC considers Vic Rakhshani, who has a position named for him ("V-back"), as the "12th offensive starter." Although he can play tight end, he normally lines up at flanker when Kevin Williams goes out and then becomes a threat both as a receiver or blocker. He often goes in motion one way, then reverses his field and goes in the other direction.

"Vic is one of the most valuable players on the team," says John Robinson. "He plays a most complicated and difficult position for us and does it very well. In fact, he's having an effect on strategies throughout football.

"He's a very physical receiver with outstanding hands and he's a sensational blocker on tailback sweeps. I want to expand his role—get the ball thrown to him more often. He plays to his potential as well as anyone on the team."

Rakhshani caught just 8 passes as a junior, but 4 went for touchdowns (against UCLA, Arizona, Washington State and Texas Tech). As a sophomore he caught 9 for 2 touchdowns (California and Hawaii), but it was as a freshman at San Jose State in 1976 that he showed what he can do as a receiver. That season he caught 24 passes for 307 yards and 3 TD's and was named to the Freshman All-American team by Football News. In one game he snagged 8 for 124 yards.

Disappointed that head coach Darryl Rogers had left, however, Rakhshani left San Jose State for Golden West College where he sat out the 1977 season, before transferring to USC in the spring of 1978. In the spring of 1977 at Golden West he competed in track, putting the shot 55-4 and high jumping 6-5.

At Edison High School in Huntington Beach, Rakhshani was first team All-CIF 4-A at tight end in 1975 and also the league champ in the shot put. A good student at USC, he has a 2.96 overall grade point average as a communications major, and also enjoys surfing, singing and playing the guitar. He's a baritone as a singer.

In fact Rakhshani shared the role of "Jigger," the second lead in Rodgers and Hammerstein's musical, "Carousel," in a campus production last spring. The part called for him to sing twice, "The Stonecutters Song" and "Blow High, Blow Low."

"I've always enjoyed singing and been a ham at heart, but I've never had any formal training," he says. "But I got a lot of encouragement from the drama department to try out for the part and succeeded in an audition. I was much more scared at the audition than I've ever been on a football field. When someone said, 'Vic, are you ready?' my heart jumped in my throat."

Vic and his two brothers, Craig (a high school tight end) and Steve (a quarterback at Hawaii) have joined two others to form a band. "We play at parties and churches," he says, "but I don't know how far it'll go."

OFFENSIVE LINEMEN

(59) STEVE ENRIGHT—6-7, 243, 19, Fr.

Redshirted as a freshman because of surgery on his right kneecap, Enright is a reserve at weakside tackle. He's the son of former USC assistant and Oregon head coach Dick Enright.

At Capistrano High School, Steve was an All-CIF Division II first team pick at tackle, along with winning All-Orange County and All-South Coast League honors. He was credited with making 12 key blocks that led directly to touchdowns.

(64) ROY FOSTER—6-4, 260, 20, Jr.

Foster replaced a unanimous Trojan All-American, Pat Howell, at weakside guard last season and should finish his USC career in 1981 as a three-year starter. This year he moves to strongside guard to replace another unanimous All-American, Brad Budde, and it looks like his future will parallel Howell and Budde's.

As a sophomore Roy was first team All-Pac-10 and second team All-West Coast.

"As remarkable as it seems, physically Foster is better than Howell and Budde, because he's bigger and faster," says John Robinson. "He's got outstanding speed and very quick feet.

"Roy has also developed into a very ambitious man and will contend for All-American honors this season. If his rate of improvement continues, he'll be one of USC's greatest guards ever."

Foster was fast enough to play fullback at Shawnee Mission High School in Kansas and rushed for 1,016 yards and a 5.1 average as a senior. He was named second team All-State and first team All-Kansas City at the position.

He came to USC as a fullback, but was soon moved to guard—a spot he had never played—and learned fast enough to play 34 minutes as a reserve guard and tackle in 1978.

"As good as he is already, Foster has only scratched the surface of his potential," says offensive line coach Hudson Houck. "He's an outstanding athlete who's the perfect guard physically. What a future he's got."

Born in Los Angeles, Roy played two years for Taft High in Southern California, before his family moved to Overland Park, Kansas. He says his mother encouraged him to attend USC. Away from football, Foster enjoys singing, doing magic tricks and playing cards.

Asked who his biggest sports heroes are, he says, "the ones who are modest."

(66) BRUCE MATTHEWS—6-5, 250, 19, So.

Brother of ex-Trojan and current Cleveland Browns linebacker Clay Matthews, Bruce also has a promising future. He goes into the fall as the starting weakside guard after playing 21 minutes as a freshman tackle. Included in that rookie season, however, was a start against UCLA when regular Don Mosebar was hurt.

"Matthews will develop into an all-star candidate in the future," says John Robinson. "He has size, balance, intelligence and great competitiveness. We're very pleased with his progress to date."

At Arcadia High Matthews played both offensive and defensive tackle, winning honorable mention All-American honors, and being named first team All-CIF Division I. He was also named on the L.A. Times All-San Gabriel Valley Squad. In addition he caught and played first base for the baseball team and was an all-league heavyweight wrestler as a sophomore and junior.

Born in Raleigh, N.C., Bruce is an industrial engineering major who likes golf, scuba diving and racquetball. "I came to USC," he says, "because it represents the greatest football in America and you can get a great education at the same time."

(55) DARRYL MOORE—6-6, 260, 18, So.

Moore played in one game as a freshman and goes into the fall listed as a reserve strongside tackle. He was a first team All-Los Angeles City pick at offensive tackle at Venice High as a senior, after winning second team All-City honors as a junior.

"Darryl's improvement this spring was dramatic," says John Robinson. "He has excellent size and great enthusiasm for the game and the willingness to work hard to get ahead. He has a promising future at USC."

A business major at USC, Moore also played basketball and put the shot in high school. He grins when he remembers a silly incident that happened to him on the field. "I got a hole torn in the back of my pants," he said, "and the tail of my jersey hung out of the hole. Everybody made fun of me and said it looked like I had a tail."

(72) DON MOSEBAR—6-7, 265, 19, So.

Last season was just a few minutes old when tackle Anthony Munoz—a first round choice in this year's NFL draft—hurt his knee at Texas Tech. Mosebar, a freshman, came off the bench in his first college game and played the rest of the way with no drop-off in the USC attack. Don went on to start nine games for the unbeaten Trojans at weakside tackle, before torn ligaments and surgery forced him out of the UCLA game and the Rose Bowl.

The starting weakside tackle again this season, Mosebar will be a four-year starter for the Trojans, just like the graduated Brad Budde.

"And his poise reminds me of Budde's," says John Robinson. "Mosebar had an amazing freshman season, filling in for Munoz. If he's back at full strength following his knee surgery, he could be one of the best sophomore linemen in the country."

Offensive line coach Hudson Houck, who has coached many great players at USC, is enthusiastic about his young pupil.

"The thing that's important about Mosebar is that he's not only a good talent physically, but his intensity and understanding of the game are incredible," says Houck. "He has a tremendous ability to focus on his job."

Don came to USC from Mt. Whitney High in Visalia, where he was a unanimous All-American, a member of Coach & Athlete's Super Eleven (top 11 players in the country), a unanimous pick as Northern California Player of the Year and Parade Magazine's choice as outstanding lineman in the nation. Mt. Whitney went 12-1 during Mosebar's junior year and 13-0 when he was a senior with the team's running backs averaging 8 yards a carry over his tackle spot.

He also put the shot 64-0½ to finish second in the nation in the national championships, coming from way behind on his last throw to get second, and threw the discus 176 feet.

A business major, Don has a 3.08 grade point average and enjoys math, too. He also loves to get away and go fishing. On his football poise, he says, "I just try to relax. You play better relaxed."

(69) STEVE MOYER—6-7, 275, 22, Sr.

Listed as the backup to Keith Van Horne at strongside tackle, Moyer played briefly last season, after moving to offense from defensive tackle.

"It's a big shift—from defense to offense—but I think Steve is ready to play a significant role on this year's team," says John Robinson. "He has great size, and he's one of the most dedicated players we have. As a senior he could be one of the come-through players who'll make our season."

Moyer transferred to USC in the fall of 1978 from Grossmont Junior College and was redshirted that season. At Grossmont he was a defensive tackle for two years, although he did play offensive tackle at El Capitan High, winning All-Grossmont League honors. He also put the shot and threw the discus for the track team.

A psychology major, Moyer says his favorite pastimes are two dramatically different ones—"sky diving and studying." He says the toughest player he's ever faced was ex-Trojan Myron Lapka in practice—"because he's Ukranian."

(74) JOE MURRAY—6-5, 260, 20, So.

Listed as the backup to Don Mosebar at weakside tackle coming into fall, Murray played six minutes last season, after being redshirted as a 1978 freshman. The Trojans lack experienced bench strength in the offensive line, and Murray could be a key figure.

"Joe was showing remarkable improvement when he strained his knee and missed the last half of spring ball," says Robinson, "But he's an intelligent player with good size and improving quickness. He can play both guard and tackle and should play a lot."

Murray came to USC from Loyola High in Los Angeles, where he made the Scholastic Coach All-American team, was a first team All-CIF Division I pick at offensive tackle and was chosen Del Rey League Player of the Year. He played both offensive and defensive tackle and helped lead his team to a 9-2-1 record and the CIF semifinals. Loyola's coach, ex-Trojan tailback Steve Grady, said the team ran behind Joe 80% of the time.

A history major, Murray says his favorite hobbies are "sleeping and listening to music." His biggest sports hero is teammate Allen Pugh, a fifth year player who will start at center. "Allen has shown me that giving your best at all times will eventually pay off, even if it doesn't at first," says Murray.

(75) ALLEN PUGH—6-4, 245, 22, Sr.

Pugh is a study in perseverance. He's been an effective backup player for the Trojans on both offense and defense for three years, and finally, as a senior, he's the starting center.

"Allen is one of the keys to our season," says John Robinson. "He's worked his way up slowly, and I'm confident he'll make the most of his chance. He's an intelligent player who's an outstanding leader. He'll be a fine player this season."

After being redshirted as a 1976 freshman, Pugh played 38 minutes at defensive tackle in 1977, making six tackles, including one for a 10-yard loss. Moved to offense the next spring, he played 37 minutes in 1978 and 26 minutes in 1979 as a reserve guard, with some practice time at center.

Pugh played at San Marcos High in Northern California, winning Scholastic Coach All-American and second team All-CIF 4-A honors at offensive tackle. He also played first base in baseball and forward in basketball, winning All-Channel League honors.

A business major, Pugh is married (his wife's name is Janine).

(73) TONY SLATON—6-4, 245, 19, So.

Slaton didn't play as a 1979 freshman, but he goes into fall listed as the backup center and backup strongside guard.

"Tony is a good young prospect who'll play both guard and center," says John Robinson. "He's still growing and he's got excellent athletic ability and intelligence. We have great expectations for him."

A business major, Slaton was an All-Northern California pick and Lineman of the Year in the Central California Conference at Merced High as an offensive tackle. He says his favorite hobbies are "listening to music and attending concerts." Tony feels he was baptized under fire on the USC practice field.

"Myron Lapka (ex-Trojan defensive tackle) was the toughest player I've ever faced," he says. "He had so much strength and coordination that it was a challenge just to get up the nerve to go against him. But once I got the confidence to face him, I felt I could go against anyone."

(68) KEITH VAN HORNE—6-7, 265, 23, Sr.

Going into his third year as the starting strongside tackle, Van Horne was a first team Academic All-American last season and was also chosen first team All-Pac-10, first team All-West Coast and third team All-American (Football News). This summer he was picked on Playboy's All-American team, the first of what should be many senior awards.

"Everyone knows how many great offensive linemen we've had at USC, and Keith is among the best who have ever played here," says John Robinson. "In our view he's an All-American already, and I think he's a definite candidate for the Lombardi and Outland Awards.

"He has great size, intelligence and athletic ability and enough speed and quickness to play guard. He may be the best offensive tackle in the country."

Offensive line coach Hudson Houck is another big Van Horne booster.

"Keith was a very good athlete to begin with, but he's made himself a great player through hard work," said Houck. "For instance, he was slender when he came to USC, but he's put on 35 or 40 pounds through intense weight training.

"He really understands the fundamentals of offensive line play, too. He's very, very sound in every phase of the game—pass protection blocking, reach blocking, drive blocking. Technically, he's remarkable."

Van Horne started in both 1978 and 1979, finishing fourth on the offense in minutes played in 1979, just ahead of Lombardi Award winner Brad Budde. In 1977 he played 40 minutes as the No. 1 backup to now-graduated tackle John Schuhmacher, and in 1976 he appeared in just two games before a stress fracture in his left foot knocked him out for the season, prompting the Pac-8 to award him another year.

Van Horne came to USC from Fullerton Union High School, where he was a two-year All-Freeway League choice as a tight end and defensive lineman. He also played center in basketball and put the shot 59 feet for the track team. Born in Mt. Lebanon, Penn., Keith is a broadcast journalism major with an outstanding grade point average of 3.28.

Away from football he likes to relax by listening to music and also enjoys playing basketball. He credits his father, John, and brother, Peter, for much of his success in sports. "They helped me get started and were an inspiration to me," Keith says. "They taught me not to quit and to give everything I have. If I have done that, I can be satisfied with myself."

He does remember an embarrassing moment on the field. "In 1977 it was raining when we were up at Washington and the coaches sent me in to play tackle," he recalls. "I got on the field and looked down and discovered I was still wearing my rain jacket."

KICKERS

(10) ERIC HIPP—5-8, 178, 20, Sr.

With less than three minutes to play in the game, USC was locked in a 14-14 tie with Cal last year in a game the Trojans had to win. Hipp, who had kicked only 1 field goal in 8 attempts to that point of the season, calmly knocked one through from 45 yards out and USC went on to win the big showdown, 24-14. He finished with 5 field goals in his last 7 attempts and John Robinson forsees a better overall 1980.

"We're counting on Eric to have an outstanding senior season," said the coach. "Despite his problems, I thought he kicked the ball pretty well last season. He was like a golfer in a slump. He had a slight hook that caused him to miss by inches. But he's shortened his leg swing and was more accurate in the spring."

Eric finished the year with 6 field goals in 15 attempts and 49 of 50 extra points, his only missed PAT coming on a block. Among his field goals were two against Arizona and a 41-yarder in the first half of the Rose Bowl against Ohio State.

A transfer to USC last fall from San Francisco City College, Hipp came with great credentials. He was the first team All-State placekicker, setting a new California JC record for distance by booting a 57-yard field goal—with no time left on the clock—to tie Foothill College 24-24 in 1978. It broke the old mark of 55 yards set by L.A. Ram kicker Frank Corral.

Eric was also third in the state in kick scoring with 10 field goals and 22 extra points for 52 points, after kicking 9 field goals and 17 PAT's as a freshman. He was a first team All-Golden Gate Conference pick both years.

Hipp not only went to the same JC as ex-Trojan kicker Frank Jordan, he went to the same high school, Riordan, where he was an All-Northern California choice, hitting a field goal from 56 yards out for a San Francisco CIF record. He was also an all-league linebacker and played soccer.

A physical education major at USC, Eric still plays soccer for fun and is an avid skier. His nickname is "Reggie," and he remembers a humorous incident in a game he played in the rain in San Francisco. "The field was real muddy," he said, "and I slipped and fell flat on my back every time I tried a field goal. In fact, I fell four different times."

(13) JOHN PERRY—6-4, 210, 22, Sr.

The youngest son of athletic director Dick Perry, John is a backup punter who also worked at quarterback in practice in 1977. He came to USC from Pacifica High School in Orange where he was an all-conference quarterback, played forward for the basketball team and pitched for the baseball team.

Born in Emporia, Kan., John is a business major with an overall 3.12 grade point average. He says he enjoys snow skiing, golfing, listening to music and studying economics.

He'll never forget what he did in a high school game. "As the quarterback I strolled up to the line to take the snap from center," he said, "but after squatting down and getting ready to take the ball I knew something had to be wrong. I realized I was standing under the strong-side guard."

(17) DAVID PRYOR—6-2, 210, 20, So.

The returning punter for the Trojans, Pryor averaged 36.7 yards on 42 kicks as a redshirt freshman. But those statistics don't tell half of the story, for David has a very educated toe. He kicked the ball either dead or out of bounds inside the 20 a total of 19 times last season—out of 21 attempts!

In addition, only 17 of David's 42 punts were returned for a meager 106 yards or 6.2 average. He had a long of 63 yards against Oregon State.

"Pryor's ability to kick the ball out of bounds inside the 20 is phenomenal," says John Robinson. "He also gets the ball off very fast which makes it very difficult to block. He's developing into one of the premier punters in the country."

Pryor came to USC from Hemet High in the desert, where he averaged 40 yards on 36 kicks as a senior and limited opponents to a total of just 16 yards in returns. He also quarterbacked his team to the San Andreas League title and an 8-2 record, earning second team all-conference honors as a quarterback and first team honors as a punter. He played forward for the basketball team and put the shot for the track team. As a 1978 Trojan freshman he was redshirted.

When he was a 13-year-old, Pryor handled pressure well enough to win the national punt-pass-and-kick title for his age group at halftime of the Super Bowl.

A free spirit, David says his favorite pastimes are "seeing my friends and being free to do whatever I feel like at the moment." His mother agrees. "Casual is the word to describe his attitude toward life," says Betty Honicky, his mom. "Also forgetful. I let out a sigh when I saw him on the sidelines during the 1978 Alabama game on TV. It meant he remembered to catch the bus."

He's kicked since nursery school. "They had to take the ball away from him," his mother added. "He kept kicking it over the fence."

And Robinson says David really enjoys kicking. "If we told him to punt rocks," said the coach, "he'd go out and punt rocks."

DEFENSE

DOWN LINEMEN

(78) GEORGE ACHICA—6-5, 250, 19, So.

A highly recruited star from Andrew Hill High in San Jose, Achica had an excellent freshman year. The No. 1 reserve in the defensive line, he made 40 tackles in 62 minutes of action, including 8 for a loss, recovered a fumble, and started the Washington State game when regular Ty Sperling was hurt. He goes into the fall as the starting nose guard.

"George was probably one of the better freshmen in the country last year," says John Robinson, "and this year he'll be one of the best defensive linemen period. He has both strength and agility and plays with great enthusiasm and emotion. He's already a team leader."

Coming off the bench, Achica had 6 tackles against Washington State and 5 in three other games, including the Rose Bowl against Ohio State. Against LSU he made 4 tackles, and 3 were for losses.

A unanimous high school All-American, Achica was also a two-time All-Northern California choice. He set single season school records at Andrew Hill for most tackles by a lineman (98), most quarterback sacks (12), most fumble recoveries (5) and most pressures on a quarterback (50), all as a senior. That helped his team win its second straight Mount Hamilton League title.

A tremendous wrestler, George captured the California state heavyweight wrestling title as a junior with a 35-0 record and was third as a senior (34-1), completing his four-year career with a 130-6 record. He also ran the 100-yard dash in 10.4 for the track team.

Born in Samoa, George is married (his wife's name is Rebecca), and he has a young son, Jason.

(92) DAVID CORSINOTTI—6-3, 240, 21, Jr.

Now the backup to George Achica at nose guard, Corsinotti played 13 minutes as a sophomore, making 3 tackles, before tearing ligaments in his knee and undergoing surgery. He missed spring ball.

"Although he's coming off knee surgery, I have high hopes for Dave this year," says John Robinson. "He's always been one of our strongest players, and now his agility and skill level have improved greatly."

Redshirted in 1978, Corsinotti played 25 minutes as a freshman defensive tackle in 1977. He came to USC from Riordan High School in San Francisco, where he was double and triple teamed in every game as a senior in 1976. David still led his team in tackles with 75 and sacks with 13 and made the All-West Catholic Athletic League first team.

Nicknamed "Bruno" by his teammates, Corsinotti is a physical education major who likes listening to music and fishing. "I also like to get myself in the best physical condition I can," he says. "Once I bench pressed 500 pounds and ran a mile in 5:25 in the same week."

(70) DENNIS EDWARDS—6-4, 230, 21, Jr.

In his second year as a starting defensive tackle, Edwards comes off a very fine sophomore year. He was the Trojans' third leading tackler last fall with 77, including 9 for losses totaling 39 yards, and swatted down two passes at the line. He led the team with 11 tackles against both UCLA and Texas Tech and had 10 against Notre Dame.

"Dennis is one of the quickest defensive linemen playing college football," says John Robinson, "and his strength is growing. I believe he's ready to make the move from a good player—which he was last year—to a truly outstanding one."

As a freshman with the 1978 national champions, Edwards played more in the defensive line than any first year player Marv Goux has ever coached—except for former All-American Gary Jeter. Dennis played 140 minutes at tackle that season, bringing down 51 runners, and leading the entire team in tackles for a loss with 16 for 116 yards. When a knee injury forced starter Ty Sperling out ot the Rose Bowl, Edwards started against Michigan and made 10 tackles, third on the team, including a key 10-yard sack of quarterback Rick Leach.

Against explosive Stanford he came off the bench to sack quarterback Steve Dils three times, including a 10-yard sack with Stanford at the USC 35, five minutes left, first and ten, and USC leading by only six points. Edwards also led the Trojans in tackles for a loss that season against Washington (3 for 27 yards) and Hawaii (4 for 19 yards).

A Scholastic Coach All-American and All-Northern California pick at Edison High in Stockton, Dennis played tackle on offense and middle guard on defense, piling up 144 tackles as a senior. A recreation major at USC, he credits one-on-one drills with former Trojan All-Americans Pat Howell and Brad Budde and also Anthony Munoz for his rapid improvement.

"In particular, I'll never forget Munoz and Howell in my first few days of practice as a freshman," he says. "I went up against them a lot, and I'll be honest. They hurt me a lot. But I just kept getting up and coming back—and I improved."

(50) CLINT HAMPTON—6-2, 235, 20, So.

In two seasons at USC Hampton has not played in a game yet, but after switching from center to defensive tackle he figures to see action as a backup there.

"Clint has handled the move from the offensive line to the defensive line very well," says John Robinson. "He's very strong and plays with a lot of intensity and will see action as a reserve tackle and on the special teams."

Because of an injury his junior year at Muir High in Pasadena, Hampton played only one year of varsity ball—as a senior—making the All-CIF Division I second team as a center and the All-San Gabriel Valley team as a center and defensive tackle. He led Muir in sacks with 6 and was second in total tackles with 75. At USC he's a public administration major who likes to ride horses.

(61) MIKE LAMB—6-5, 250, 20, Fr.

Lamb entered USC in the spring of 1979, under the old NCAA rule which allowed freshmen who enrolled before that summer to redshirt. Mike did not lose last season, although he didn't play. He came into USC as a center but was moved to defense and is now a reserve nose guard.

A tackle and varsity wrestler at Clovis High in Clovis, Calif., Lamb played in the Fresno City-County All-Star football game. He's enrolled in the College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at USC and says his favorite pastimes are "team roping and bull riding." Asked why he came to USC, Lamb said, "for the education, the name, to play on a winning team . . . and because coach Goux told me to."

(63) TY SPERLING—6-0, 235, 22, Sr.

A versatile three-year starter, Sperling was at tackle as a sophomore, started at nose guard as a junior and will be back at tackle as a senior. Quick and intelligent, he brought down 55 runners as a junior, had 6 tackles for a loss, knocked down 3 passes and recovered a fumble.

"Sperling has probably been the most underrated player on our team the last two years," says John Robinson. "He's our old pro—one of the most efficient and effective players we've had in my four years as coach. He rarely plays a bad game.

"Ty is a quiet man, but a great leader by example. He's one of the most respected players on our team, and I admire him very much."

Sperling had 11 tackles against Arizona last fall, 8 against Stanford and 7 against Washington. As a 1978 sophomore he was fifth on the national champs in tackles with 64, including 9 for 66 yards in losses. In the Rose Bowl showdown with UCLA he sacked Bruin quarterback Rick Bashore three times for losses of 12, 12 and 9 yards and was named ABC-TV Defensive Player of the Game. He also had 10 tackles that season against co-Big Ten champ Michigan State and 8 against Notre Dame and California.

In 1977 Sperling played 91 minutes as a backup at both nose guard and tackle, making 27 tackles, including 2 for 11 yards in losses. He was awarded an additional year of eligibility by the Pac-8 because he had been limited to just one game in his freshman year of 1976 by a sprained left shoulder.

At Banning High Ty was a first team All-Los Angeles City and Scholastic Coach All-American choice at offensive guard in 1975. He was also voted co-captain as his team reached the city playoff finals.

Born in San Francisco, Sperling is a public administration major who's married. His wife's name is Sheryl, and he has a 2-year-old son, Tyrone Jr., who is known as T.J. He acknowledges the difficulty of being a student-football player-husband-father.

"My favorite pastime is relaxing with my family," he says, "but I don't get to spend as much time with them as I'd like. There are so many things to get done and only so many hours in a day. Every day is different because of my class schedule and the fact that Sheryl and I are both working. The pie is cut up a lot of ways —and it takes strategy to work everything in.

"Sometimes I feel like Dr. Jeckyl and Mr. Hyde. I have to be a tiger on the football field every day and a pussycat when I get home at night."

Ty has great admiration for his own parents, Frederick, who has worked at two jobs all his life (postman by day, custodian at Banning High at night), and Eva, who has been a foster parent to more than 200 children.

"If Mom can give somebody a helping hand, she'll do it," he says. "The children usually range in age from three weeks old to five years, and Mom takes care of them until they're legally adopted. I remember coming home once and there were four little babies on the couch—boom, boom, boom, boom—just like that. I'm sure there have been over 200."

(93) KELLY THOMAS—6-6, 250, 20, So.

A reserve tackle, Thomas was redshirted in 1978, then missed all of last season following knee surgery. He came to USC from La Mirada High, where he led the team in tackles in 1977 with 110 and was a unanimous first team pick on the All-San Gabriel Valley team. He also had 7 sacks, recovered 4 fumbles, blocked 3 punts, snapped for punts and placekicks and was named team MVP.

"Kelly has fought back well from knee surgery, working very hard," says John Robinson. "He'll see action this year and if his progress continues, he'll have a fine career at USC."

A public administration major, Thomas says he enjoys "reading the Bible, sleeping, boxing and all outdoor sports."

(79) CHARLES USSERY—6-4, 240, 20, Jr.

A reserve tackle for two years, Ussery is ready to make his mark as a Trojan.

"With Charlie's tremendous improvement we feel we have three starters for the two defensive tackle positions, with him joining Ty Sperling and Dennis Edwards," says John Robinson. "Charlie is one of our most aggressive and determined players, and he's matured to the point where he'll play a significant role on the team."

Ussery played 23 minutes in 1979, making 8 tackles, including 2 for a loss; and played 25 minutes in 1978, making 4 tackles, again including 2 for a loss.

At Long Beach Poly High he was named to the Coach & Athlete and Scholastic Coach All-American teams as a defensive tackle, while also playing tackle on offense. He was also picked on the All-CIF Division I second team and was All-Long Beach City. He was the team's MVP, despite missing four games as a senior with a sprained ankle.

Ussery's father, whose name is also Charles, is the chief of police in Long Beach. The Trojan lineman says he enjoys "riding horses, hiking in the mountains and fishing."

LINEBACKERS

(51) CHIP BANKS—6-5, 228, 21, Jr.

The starting outside linebacker on the weak side, Banks had an outstanding sophomore season in 1979. He was the team's fourth leading tackler with 76, led in stops for a loss with 12 for 62 yards, knocked down 6 passes, intercepted another and was named second team All-Pac-10.

He had 11 tackles in three different games (Texas Tech, Stanford and Arizona) and had 9 in three others (Notre Dame, Cal and Oregon State).

"Chip is on the way to becoming a great player," says John Robinson. "He's got enormous physical gifts—size, speed, balance and the natural instincts to take him as far as he wants to go.

"He's made dramatic improvement in the last year, and there really is no limit to his potential."

Included in Chip's tackles for a loss last season was a 3rd-and-4 sack of Ohio State quarterback Art Schlichter with about six minutes left in the Rose Bowl (for 9 yards). The Buckeyes were on the Trojan 47, leading 16-10, and the play broke up their drive. He also joined tackle Myron Lapka to nail Schlichter for a 10-yard loss when the Bucks had a 1st-and-goal on the USC 10 with about 12 minutes left. They had to settle for a field goal.

Against Cal Chip had 3 tackles for 20 yards in losses, and against Arizona he had 2 for 11. He intercepted a pass against Texas Tech.

Banks will be a three-year starter at outside linebacker, but he had an immediate impact on USC's 1978 national champs as an inside backer. Playing 111 minutes as a freshman, he made 45 tackles, including 2 for 7 yards in losses, recovered a fumble, started the Alabama and Oregon games, and made 10 tackles against both Michigan State and Oregon. He fractured his left ankle in Rose Bowl drills that season, however, and missed the 1979 Rose Bowl with Michigan.

Chip came to USC from Laney High in Georgia, reportedly recruited by 150 schools. He was a two-year All-State pick at linebacker and tight end and was also on the Scholastic Coach All-American team. As a senior Banks made 158 tackles to lead his team, including a staggering 114 unassisted stops. He also caught 10 passes and punted for a 39.5 average. He was the team's MVP as both a junior and a senior.

A public affairs major who was born in Norman, Okla., Chip enjoys listening to jazz to relax. "I came to USC," Chip says, "because of its great tradition in college football and the prestige of the university as a whole. It had always been kind of a childhood dream.

"A lot of other recruiters tried to intimidate me by saying I'd get lost here, because USC had so much talent. But coach John Jackson, who recruited me, assured me I'd get my chance . . . and I have."

(54) STEVE BUSICK—6-4, 230, 21, Sr.

After a career riddled with nagging injuries, Steve goes into his senior season as one of the Trojans' two starting inside linebackers.

"Busick has to jam his whole college career into one season, but he has the size and range to have an outstanding year for us," says John Robinson. "In fact, his success is a key to our success. I think we'll see Steve play with great determination. He has a chance to be one of the real big stories on this year's team."

As a junior Busick played 40 minutes at inside linebacker, but made an amazing 31 tackles in that space of time, including one for a loss. He also intercepted a pass. Against Minnesota he came off the bench to lead the entire team in tackles with 15. Two years ago, when he was sidelined by one of his injuries, Busick predicted he would have a great chance to help.

"I'll tell you one thing," he said in 1978, "before I'm through here I'm going to play a lot of football."

That season, his sophomore year, he had been listed as a starting inside backer before fall drills opened, but he severely pulled a hamstring while being timed in the 40 and missed two games. The injury gave then freshman Riki Gray a chance to start, and he did and kept the job. Busick wound up with 35 minutes of playing time and 16 tackles. In 1977 as a freshman he had surgery on his right shoulder late in the year after making 15 tackles in only 24 minutes.

At Temple City High School, Steve was the leading tackler for the team that won the CIF 3-A title in 1976 (21-0 over Villa Park). He was an All-CIF 3-A first team pick at linebacker.

A public administration major, Busick says he loves going to the beach in his spare time. Asked his most thrilling moment in sports, he made a telling comment. "It has yet to happen," he said. "I hope to have many in the 1980 season."

(87) AUGUST CURLEY—6-3½, 210, 20, So.

Curley redshirted during the 1979 season, after suffering a separated shoulder during early fall drills. As a 1978 freshman on the national champs he played 30 minutes, mostly on the kicking teams, and made a dozen tackles. He's a reserve outside linebacker.

"August is an intelligent, intense player who is one of a group of rising young players on our team," says John Robinson. "He'll play a great deal on our special teams and as a backup outside linebacker."

Curley came to USC from Southwest High in Atlanta where he was an All-State pick, averaging 10 unassisted tackles and 2 sacks a game. He also played forward on the basketball team and pitched for the baseball team, throwing the first no-hitter in the school's history. Born in Little Rock, Ark., Curley says his favorite hobbies are "going to parties and riding motorcycles." He traveled across the country to USC, he says, "because it was a childhood dream."

Making the most of his opportunity, August has a cumulative 2.92 grade point average in the College of Letters, Arts and Sciences.

(94) BYRON DARBY—6-4, 225, 20, So.

Here's a potential star of the future. Redshirted as a freshman in 1978, Darby, who has great quickness, played 54 minutes as a defensive tackle in 1979 and made 21 tackles—including 7 for 67 yards in losses. He also broke up 4 passes, recovered 2 fumbles and blocked a Washington State punt out of the end zone for a safety. Byron was moved to inside linebacker in the spring and goes into the fall listed as backup to Riki Gray.

"Byron handled the move to linebacker very well," said John Robinson. "His mobility, his ability to find the ball carrier and his talent for tackling are really outstanding. He's got a great temperament for defense, and I see him developing into one of our best players."

Darby was a teammate of USC linebacker Eric Scoggins at Inglewood High School, where he was a 1977 All-CIF Division II first team pick at defensive tackle. He led Inglewood in tackles with 135, including a team-high 19 sacks, and also recovered three fumbles. He was chosen the team's MVP and captain and was an All-Ocean League pick at tackle on both offense and defense. He also put the shot 57 feet for the track team.

A business administration major, Darby's biggest sports hero is another linebacker—Jack Lambert of the world champion Pittsburgh Steelers. "He inspired me," Byron says. "He's the one reason I started playing football." Away from football, Darby enjoys hunting and listening to music, and says his good friends call him "Bear."

(46) DREW DOSSETT—6-4, 225, 19, So.

A unanimous high school All-American and Louisiana's 3-A Defensive Player of the Year at Jesuit High in Shreveport, Dossett had a knee operation for torn cartilage and torn ligaments the summer before coming to USC. So his playing time was limited to 11 minutes last fall. He comes into this fall listed as a backup inside linebacker.

"Drew is still trying to catch up from that unfortunate knee injury, but he has an outstanding future," says John Robinson. "His knee is getting stronger, and as his skill level improves, he'll play an important role for us. He'll play on all our special teams this year."

As a senior at Jesuit in 1978, Dossett made 98 tackles, recovered 3 fumbles, intercepted 2 passes and blocked a punt. On offense he caught 11 passes and averaged 22 yards a catch, while scoring 3 TD's, as the tight end. He was also chosen on the All-South team, and graduated 9th in his class.

Enrolled in the College of Letters, Arts and Sciences, Dossett is nicknamed "Swamp" by his teammates. He says he enjoys reading and playing basketball and golf. "I chose to play at USC because I wanted to test my talents," says Dossett. "In high school people told me that I was good, so I decided to find out if I really was, because if you can play here, you can play anywhere."

A thoughtful young man, Dossett says he admires Earl Campbell of the Houston Oilers, "because he's a fantastic athlete and he's humble—which is very rare in superstars." Drew is also a good student, compiling a 3.72 grade point average in the College of Letters, Arts and Sciences.

(35) RIKI GRAY—6-2, 225, 20, Jr.

Like the graduated Lombardi Award winner, Brad Budde, Gray is on his way to being a four-year starter at USC. He was first team All-Pac-10 and second team All-West Coast as a sophomore when he was second only to All-American Dennis Johnson in Trojan tackles with 96. Held out of contact last spring following post-season knee surgery, Gray should be ready to bid for All-American honors this fall.

"Riki is one of the most intense physical competitors I've ever seen," says John Robinson. "He's a natural linebacker because of his quickness and because he brings such dramatic intensity to his position. He's aggressive, he's tough, he's a leader and he can be an All-American."

Included in his 96 tackles in 1979 were 3 for 14 yards in losses. He had 13 against Notre Dame, 11 against Stanford, 10 against both UCLA and Arizona and 9 against unbeaten Ohio State in USC's 17-16 Rose Bowl victory.

In fact, the Buckeyes had a first and goal on the USC 2 late in the first quarter when Gray was in on three straight tackles to help turn them away without a score. He teamed with Dennis Johnson to hold Art Schlichter to a yard on first down, then teamed with George Achica to stop tailback Calvin Murray for no gain on second down, and then tackled fullback Paul Campbell all alone for no gain on third down. Johnson stopped Schlichter at the one on fourth down.

As a freshman Gray not only started for the 1978 national champs, but was third on that team in tackles with 86, including a team-high 15 against Michigan in the 17-10 Rose Bowl victory. And he made those 15 tackles, despite tearing knee ligaments in the first quarter, an injury which was confirmed later. (He had surgery after the season.) Gray also led the team in tackles with 14 against California, had 7 for 40 yards in losses on the season, knocked down 2 passes, recovered a fumble and ran an interception back 25 yards for a TD against Hawaii.

Riki came to USC from Amphitheater High in Tucson, Ariz., where he was a unanimous All-American pick—the only member of USC's outstanding 1978 frosh class to make all four teams. He averaged 13 tackles a game as a senior and was All-Arizona as both a junior and senior. In one game at linebacker he scored three defensive touchdowns, running back two interceptions and falling on a fumble.

Born in Christchurch, New Zealand, Riki moved to America with his mother after she separated from his father and she came to USC on a modern dance scholarship. She took him to the 1971 USC-Stanford game and he was hooked.

"It was the first football game I ever saw and I immediately wanted to go to USC," he says. "It was that white horse, the songs and the enthusiasm. It never left my mind. Now all I want to do is play for USC. If I could play 20 years for USC, I'd do it."

A recreation major, Gray remembers being badly embarrassed before a high school game. "The stands were full of college scouts," he recalls, "and our whole team was to run onto the field through several banners. I tripped and fell on the way through and I think the whole team ran over me."

(97) KEN JORDAN—6-4½, 224, 20, Jr.

As a sophomore Jordan played 14 minutes as a reserve outside linebacker and special teams player and was in on a remarkable 17 tackles in that short space of time. He comes into fall as the backup to Chip Banks on the weak side.

"Kenny is one of our better pass rushers," says John Robinson. "He plays with a lot of aggressiveness and should see plenty of action on the special teams and as a backup outside linebacker this season."

Jordan played 26 minutes as a freshman in 1978, mostly on the kicking teams, and made 8 tackles. He came to USC as a three-year starter at linebacker out of Booker T. Washington High School in Atlanta. As a senior he was selected to the All-State, All-Metro and All-City teams, averaging 17.5 tackles a game. He also played goalie on the soccer team and threw the discus for the track team. In one football game he grabbed a fumble and ran it 64 yards for a touchdown.

A performing arts major, Kenny likes to play chess, ride horses and dance. He recalls a humorous incident back in high school. "I once stiff armed my own teammate," he said. "I had scooped up a fumble when all of a sudden I saw this image speeding toward me. It was a teammate who wanted to block for me, but I was a little panicky and reacted by sticking out my arm and clobbering him."

The toughest player he's ever faced? "Chip Banks when he was at Laney High back home in Georgia. Boy, was he all over the place. Now he's as good a friend as anyone could have."

(88) PAT McCOOL—6-4, 225, 20, So.

Moved to outside linebacker from tight end before last season, McCool played 19 minutes and made 7 tackles. He goes into the fall as a backup outside linebacker on the strong side. Pat came to USC in the fall of 1978 and actually saw action at tight end against Texas Tech in the first game of the season, but he hurt his knee, had surgery and sat out the season which became a redshirt year.

"McCool has made rapid improvement at linebacker," says John Robinson, "and is another member of our young brigade who'll play key roles on the special teams and as a backup. He has good physical gifts and plays with a lot of enthusiasm. He's got a fine future here."

At Antelope Valley High School Pat was an All-CIF Division II selection as a senior and Golden League Player of the Year, catching 27 passes at tight end for 507 yards (18.8 average) and 9 TD's. Both the years he started for Antelope Valley his school won the Division II championship. Pat also played basketball and high jumped, threw the discus and put the shot for the track team.

A young man who says he likes "people and the outdoor life," McCool was involved in a funny incident in high school. "I wound up," he says, "catching a punt kicked by our own punter."

(56) JEFF METTER—6-3, 225, 20, So.

A reserve inside linebacker, Metter did not play last season. He's gained 20 pounds in two years to play linebacker, after playing quarterback and safety for Hillsdale High School in San Mateo. He was named both Offensive and Defensive Back of the Year in the Mid-Peninsula League, leading Hillsdale to the league title and the second round of the playoffs.

In seven league games he rushed for 230 yards and completed 23 of 51 passes for 359 more, and in the first round playoff game, a 22-20 victory, he ran back two interceptions for touchdowns. Jeff also high jumped 6-6 and triple jumped 44-7 for the track team, and wrestled. Born in Seattle, he loves snow skiing.

"Jeff is an excellent special teams player who gives us depth at inside linebacker," says John Robinson. "He's aggressive and goes to the ball well. If he learns the assignments and skills necessary for inside linebacker, he can help us there this fall."

(91) MARC MITCHELL—6-4, 215, 21, Sr.

A reserve outside linebacker, Mitchell made 9 tackles in 9 minutes of action last fall, including one for a loss, and also intercepted a pass against Minnesota. He was a spring, 1978 transfer from Mt. San Antonio Junior College who tore ligaments in his knee that spring practice, had surgery and sat out the 1978 season.

"Marc's progress last season was slowed by that injury," said John Robinson, "but he's a consistent player who can help us both at outside linebacker and in the defensive line."

Mitchell played defensive tackle for two years at Mt. SAC, making 90 tackles as a sophomore, including 15 sacks. He also intercepted a pair of passes, blocked two kicks and was a first team All-South Coast Conference choice. He won All-San Antonio League and All-Pomona Valley honors as a defensive tackle at Pomona High.

A sociology major, Mitchell likes to play basketball in his spare time. He's excited to be a Trojan. "My most thrilling moment in sports was actually playing in a game for USC last fall—and then getting an interception," he said.

(81) ERIC SCOGGINS—6-3, 215, 21, Sr.

The starting outside linebacker on the strong side, Scoggins has already been a part-time starter and a key member of the Trojan defense for two years.

He made 41 tackles as a junior, including 2 for 9 yards in losses, led the team with 7 tackles in the 42-5 win at Oregon State, and started three games. But it was as a sophomore that he really made his mark, starting the first four games for injured regular Garry Cobb and making 11 tackles in the 1978 showdown 24-14 victory over Alabama in Birmingham. For his heroics against Alabama, Scoggins was named ABC-TV's Defensive Player of the Game and Pac-10 Defensive Player of the Week.

For the season of 1978 Scoggins wound up with 44 tackles, including 8 for 32 yards in losses.

"Eric brings outstanding football intelligence to the game," says John Robinson. "He knows what to do and he understands the game thoroughly. Now he's improved physically to the point where we're looking for an outstanding senior season from him. In fact, his performance is crucial to our defensive success."

Moved to outside backer in drills before the 1977 Bluebonnet Bowl, Scoggins had been a defensive back as a freshman, making 11 tackles and playing 52 minutes. He came to USC after a brilliant career at Inglewood High, where he started at defensive back for two years and at quarterback for three.

He was an All-CIF 3-A first team pick on defense as a senior and honorable mention All-American on the Joe Namath Magazine team, intercepting 7 passes and making 54 tackles. At quarterback he rushed for 753 yards, scoring 4 touchdowns, and completed 51 of 98 passes (52%) for 912 yards and 10 more scores. He was named Ocean League Player of the Year and, in his spare time, was student body vice president.

A public administration major, Scoggins relaxes by listening to music and is a charter member of "The Three Blind Mice," including teammates Dennis Smith and Ronnie Lott. They've all been close friends since they entered USC together as 1977 freshmen.

(48) TIM SULLIVAN—6-2, 210, 19, So.

A reserve inside linebacker, Sullivan played 7 minutes as a freshman but didn't make a tackle. He came to USC from St. John the Baptist High in Massapequa, N.Y., where he was a two-year All-Catholic Long Island Conference pick as an inside linebacker and offensive guard.

"Tim is another member of a talented group of young, still learning players whose enthusiasm, aggressiveness and skill can help us," says John Robinson. "He's continued to improve and will be a key member of our special teams."

Besides his honors, Tim led St. John the Baptist in tackles as a senior and blocked three punts. He also played lacrosse. He says he'll never forget playing in his first high school game, because he intercepted a pass and ran it back for a touchdown.

DEFENSIVE BACKS

(47) JOEY BROWNER—6-3, 205, 20, So.

When Joey Browner is asked who his biggest sports heroes are, he's got some pretty good ones in his own family.

"My brothers Ross, Jim and Willard are my idols," he says. "They taught me everything I know."

That would be Outland Trophy winner Ross, defensive end from Notre Dame; three-year starter Jim, defensive back from Notre Dame; and Willard, senior fullback from Utah State. Joey was the fourth high school All-American from the Browner family, and he should be one of the best. There's even another great Browner in the USC freshman class, outside linebacker Keith.

Joey Browner goes into the fall as a starting cornerback, after playing 53 minutes, making 26 tackles, breaking up 3 passes and starting the Rose Bowl for injured Jeff Fisher as a 1979 freshman.

"Joey is a great athlete who made a tremendous adjustment last season from high school linebacker to college defensive back," says John Robinson. "He has size, speed, toughness and the confidence now to establish himself as truly an outstanding defensive back."

Browner also played on the kicking teams last year and made one interception, running it back 22 yards against Oregon State. Born in Warren, Ohio, Joey was All-State at Warren Western Reserve High as a junior, before transferring to Southwest High in Atlanta, when his family moved. At Southwest he was a Scholastic Coach and Parade All-American at linebacker and also earned All-South,

Georgia Class 3-A Lineman of the Year and Atlanta Player of the Year honors. He made 120 unassisted tackles and intercepted three passes to help Southwest to a 10-2 record. In a game against West Fulton he scored TD's on a 93-yard kickoff return and 53-yard reception from tight end, while making 13 unassisted tackles.

Enrolled in the College of Letters, Arts and Sciences, Joey says he "loves helping kids" in his spare time.

"I never really seriously considered going to Notre Dame," he adds. "I wanted to go somewhere I could make a name for myself. Oh, they recruited me and were real nice to me, but if I had gone there, everything I might have done would have been compared to Ross or Jim.

"I remember when I told Ross I was going to USC, he said if that's what I really wanted, then it was fine with him.

"Besides, the way I look at it, USC is just like Notre Dame, except that it doesn't have a golden dome. And it isn't as cold."

(40) JEFF FISHER—5-11, 185, 22, Sr.

Before last season John Robinson said Fisher might be the biggest surprise on the team. And he was.

A little used wide receiver, he was moved to the secondary in the spring of 1979 and then started the entire season, finishing eighth on the team in tackles with 66. He also intercepted 2 passes, broke up 8 more and recovered 3 fumbles.

He had a number of big games, including an interception and 12 tackles against Notre Dame, and 9 tackles and an interception which set up a field goal against LSU. Against Notre Dame he also slowed down Vagas Ferguson in the open field on a long run to allow teammate Dennis Smith to catch up and push Ferguson out of bounds, which prevented a touchdown. In addition, Fisher had 8 tackles and a fumble recovery against Arizona, 2 fumble recoveries at Oregon State and 7 tackles against both Stanford and Cal.

"Jeff's adjustment to a totally new position last year was phenomenal," says John Robinson. "He's become one of the most consistent players on our team. He's got good physical gifts—quickness, balance and toughness—but his real strength is in his tremendous mental competitiveness."

Fisher had to miss the Rose Bowl with an injured tendon in his right foot that required post-season surgery. As a result he also sat out spring ball, but was expected to be healthy by fall.

As a sophomore wide receiver Jeff played 29 minutes in 1978, catching 1 pass for 6 yards. He played in one game in 1977 and redshirted in 1976.

He came to USC from Taft High School where he played both wide receiver and defensive back, winning first team All-Los Angeles City and honorable mention Scholastic Coach All-American honors at wide receiver as a senior.

Jeff caught 56 passes for 806 yards his last season and also intercepted 6 passes and made 50 tackles. He set a city single-game receiving record with 13 catches for 284 yards against Chatsworth, including TD plays of 58 and 80 yards.

An outstanding student, Jeff got his bachelor's degree in public administration last spring with an overall 3.47 grade point average. This fall he's already begun working toward a graduate degree in business. He's also an active outdoorsman. "I like surfing, skiing, golf and tennis," he says.

He admits he had a big adjustment in moving to defensive back. "At most positions you're used to running forward," he says. "But in the secondary you've got to learn to run backwards. It's completely different. But I'll say this: when you cover Kevin Williams in practice every day, you get pretty well prepared."

(11) DON JONES—6-0, 188, 22, Sr.

The emergence of walk-on Gordon Adams as starting quarterback is a big story at USC, but on defense there's a similar one. Don Jones was a walk-on in the spring of 1979, won a scholarship, and now in 1980 is considered as one of three potential starters at cornerback—with Jeff Fisher and Joey Browner.

In his junior year, his first as a Trojan, Jones made 28 tackles—most of them on kickoffs and punts—recovered 2 fumbles, had a tackle for a 10-yard loss and deflected a pass.

"Don is a very physical player with good speed," says John Robinson, "and he got enough game experience in 1979 to build his confidence. He'll have to cram most of his college career into one season, but he'll play a very important role on this team."

Jones transferred to USC in the spring of 1979 from Harbor Junior College, paying his own tuition his first semester from money he'd earned on a summer job. He got a scholarship the next semester. Don had to overcome odds at Harbor, too, beginning his career as an offensive back and wide receiver and then switching to defense at the end of his freshman year. Working hard in the off-season, he earned a starting job at the start of his sophomore year and won first team All-Southern California Conference honors at corner.

Don intercepted 8 passes at Harbor in 1978, breaking open a scoreless tie with Los Angeles City College with a 25-yard touchdown return. He also recovered 2 fumbles and made 99 tackles.

A finance major, Don's nickname on the team is "Rock." He says he came to USC without a scholarship and against his father's wishes (he had offers from three other schools) because "it was a childhood dream. I wanted to be part of this proud tradition and also obtain a valuable education in the field of finance.

"I thought if I worked hard enough I could get to play here. I had a lot of ambition. And besides, I would rather play here than have a scholarship somewhere else."

(42) RONNIE LOTT—6-2, 200, 21, Sr.

"Ronnie Lott," says defensive coordinator Don Lindsey, "is the best rover I've coached in my 9 years at USC."

Going into his third season as a starter at rover—or strong safety—Lott's performances so far would certainly back up Lindsey's words. Second team All-Pac-10 as a sophomore, first team All-Pac-10 as a junior and a member of the Playboy All-American team this summer, he's been right in the middle of the action his entire career.

He was fifth on the defense in tackles on last year's unbeaten team with 74, broke up 9 passes, intercepted 3 more, recovered 2 fumbles and made 7 tackles for losses on safety blitzes. He made 4 tackles for a loss in the Rose Bowl showdown with Washington alone, including two in the middle of a great goal line stand.

Washington trailed the Trojans by a touchdown, but had a second and goal play on the Trojan one with four minutes left. On successive plays Lott threw tailback Vince Coby for losses of 1 and 3 yards, and the Huskies never did score.

John Robinson believes Ronnie's selection to the Playboy All-American team is a forerunner of what's to come.

"Lott is an All-American in every way," he says. "He has a great physical approach to the game, but at the same time he may be one of the best mental competitors we've ever had at USC. His intensity reminds me of (ex-Trojan) Lynn Swann's. He's simply one of the finest defensive players I've ever been around."

Included in Lott's interceptions last year was a 30-yard runback for a touchdown that broke open the UCLA game (it came when the score was only 7-0). He also had a 46-yarder against the Bruins, led the team in tackles against Notre Dame with 15, had 13 tackles in that Washington game and 10 more against Texas Tech.

As a sophomore Ronnie made 63 tackles, including 5 for losses, broke up 7 passes, recovered 4 fumbles, and intercepted 3 passes—all of them crucial steals. In the Rose Bowl against Michigan that season he intercepted Rick Leach's first pass and returned it 33 yards to set up the first Trojan touchdown in the 17-10 victory. Against Stanford he picked off a Steve Dils pass in the end zone to stop a long drive as USC won 13-7.

And against Hawaii he picked off a pass late in the third quarter and ran it back 50 yards for a TD. When that was nullified by penalty, Lott intercepted another early in the fourth quarter and returned it 16 yards to the Rainbow 29 to set up the USC score that finally broke the game open.

As a freshman in 1977 he made 27 tackles in 51 minutes, many as the first man streaking downfield on kickoffs and punts. He also broke up 5 passes and recovered a fumble.

"Ronnie has great timing and quickness, with a tremendous instinct for the ball, and he's a great hitter," says Lindsey. "He's a remarkable blitzer. In fact, if he gained 15 pounds and we put him at linebacker, he'd be an All-American there."

Lott is such a great athlete that he went out for the Trojan basketball team for the first time after the last Rose Bowl—six weeks after the season had started—and made the squad as a reserve guard.

At Eisenhower High School, Lott made the All-Citrus

Belt League team at three different positions, defensive back, quarterback and wide receiver, and was also an all-league pick three years in basketball (guard) and two in baseball (shortstop).

As a senior in football he was Citrus Belt League Player of the Year and a unanimous All-American. As a senior quarterback he completed 50 of 101 passes for 794 yards and rushed for 947 more. As a junior wide receiver he caught 43 passes for 890 yards (20.7 average). And on defense he intercepted 21 passes in 3 years.

Born in Albuquerque, N.M., Lott is a public administration major who likes to relax "by going for a drive with a lady friend and listening to music." He believes he's matured a lot the past three years.

"When I came here I knew I had the physical ability to play," he says. "But I've learned a lot about the mental aspects. The coaches, especially Don Lindsey, have helped me a lot.

"I think I've become a better person, too. The things I've learned from the football program I've been able to apply to the classroom and to life in general . . . the idea of self-discipline and of competing with yourself. That's how all great athletes improve—by competing with themselves."

(43) KENNEY MOORE—6-1, 185, 22, Sr.

One of the most versatile players in the secondary, Moore was a part-time starter and outstanding backup at both safety and rover in 1979. He started two games at rover or strong safety for the injured Ronnie Lott and started one at free safety when Dennis Smith was sidelined with an injury.

In 51 minutes of action as a junior, Kenney made 30 tackles, knocked down a pass and recovered a fumble.

"Kenney does a fine job as a backup safety and is absolutely brilliant on the special teams for us," says John Robinson. "He's one of our most competitive players and has also become one of our leaders."

The brother of ex-Trojan fullback Manfred Moore and current Trojan sophomore split end Malcolm Moore, Kenney played 49 minutes as a sophomore reserve safety, making 11 tackles, recovering a fumble and returning an interception 14 yards against Oregon State. He was redshirted in 1977 and played in three games as a 1976 freshman.

Moore came to USC as one of the most honored high school players in Los Angeles history.

Playing at San Fernando High, he was only the second player ever to be named Los Angeles City Player of the Year twice (ex-Trojan fullback Charlie Evans was the first). In 1974 Kenney won the award as only the fourth junior to be so honored and in 1975 he shared it with San Fernando and later USC teammates Charles White and Kevin Williams.

At quarterback, Moore led San Fernando to back-to-back city titles in '74 and '75 and directed the Wishbone-powered Tigers to a 32-5 mark overall in three years. He accounted for 4,085 yards in total offense in his career, ran for 19 touchdowns and passed for 27 more.

He was a full-time two-way player, winning first team All-City honors at quarterback as a junior and first team All-City honors at defensive back as a senior. In 1975 he was also picked on the Parade and Coach & Athlete All-American teams. His most productive year statistically was 1974 when he ran for 781 yards (4.4 average) and 11 TD's and passed for 769 and 7 more scores.

(4) KEVIN RODDY—6-3, 205, 20, So.

A reserve rover, Roddy did not play for USC as freshman last fall. But he was an outstanding football and baseball player at West High in Bellevue, Neb., winning All-State honors as a defensive back and also starting three years at second base, including 1978 when his team won the state baseball championship.

Also an option quarterback, Roddy played just five games as a senior before hurting his ankle, but in that time he had returned 2 interceptions for scores, was averaging over five yards a carry, had a punting average of 40, and had scored 40 points, including 3 on a 45-yard field goal. He also started two years at forward for the basketball team.

Away from competitive sports, Kevin says he likes "fishing, hunting and creative writing," and admires Billy Martin, "because he keeps on fighting."

Roddy is an outstanding student, compiling a 3.67 grade point average in the College of Letters, Arts and Sciences.

(30) TIM SHANNON—6-3, 200, 20, So.

Son of former St. Louis Cardinals' third baseman Mike Shannon, Tim goes into the fall as backup rover to Ronnie Lott. But he suffered a separated shoulder during spring practice and had surgery, which could force him to redshirt this season. He played briefly on the special teams as a freshman, making 8 tackles and recovering a fumble.

"Tim did a fine job on the kicking teams for us," said John Robinson, "and was having a good spring when he hurt his shoulder. If he recovers, he'll help us on the special teams again and as a backup rover."

Shannon was a Coach & Athlete All-American at Christian Brothers High in St. Louis as a quarterback and linebacker, despite playing the final six games of his senior season with torn rib cartilage. On defense he made 115 tackles, had 6 interceptions and made 3 quarterbacks sacks. And on offense he ran for 642 yards (6.1 average), scored 7 TD's and threw for 351 yards and 3 more scores out of the Wishbone. He was also a star third baseman—like his dad—and went 6-for-6 with 3 homers in one game.

Tim says his dad is his biggest sports hero and remembers one of his biggest thrills as "watching my father get a standing ovation in 1970 when he came back from an injury."

(49) DENNIS SMITH—6-3, 205, 21, Sr.

Rarely does one team have two All-American candidates in the secondary, but John Robinson firmly believes he has two at safety.

"I wouldn't trade Dennis Smith and Ronnie Lott for any two defensive backs in the country," he says. "Smith is a tremendously gifted athlete who's got size, speed, great jumping ability and a fierce willingness to hit. And he's got tremendous range. He's an outstanding All-American candidate."

On his way to being a three-year starter at free safety, Dennis already has a dozen career interceptions and has returned them an average of 15.5 yards. He was first team All-Pac-10, first team All-West Coast and third team AP All-American as a junior in 1979 when he was second on the defense in minutes played. He also made 68 tackles, broke up 11 passes, called signals in the secondary for the second straight year and had 3 interceptions, including a 53-yarder against Texas Tech.

And this summer he was named to the Playboy All-American team.

"Dennis can really cover a lot of ground in the secondary," says defensive coordinator Don Lindsey, "and he's got more leaping ability than any defensive back I can remember. In the eyes of the pros, that's a very important talent. When you're covering a Lynn Swann, you may be with him stride for stride, but you've got to be able to go up with him, too.

"Dennis is also hungry to get into the action, which is a little unique at safety. You can tell because he comes up to make so many tackles. But he's durable. He's missed only one game in three years."

Smith's leaping ability has been put to good use in track. He equaled his lifetime best last spring when he high jumped 7-2 to get second for the Trojans in the Pac-10 meet. He first cleared 7-2 back in 1977 when he was the California state prep champ, breaking Dwight Stones' state record in the process. Most of his springs since have been spent playing football, but in both 1978 and 1979 he entered the pressure-packed USC-UCLA dual meet with less than a week of practice and jumped 7 feet to get second.

And when he cleared 7-2 last spring, he did it with a cast for a broken wrist on his right hand.

As a sophomore, Smith was the Trojans' leading interceptor in 1978 when USC won the national title, making 7 for 77 yards, led the defense in minutes played, led the secondary in tackles with 71, knocked down 6 passes and won second team All-Pac-10 honors.

He made his 7 interceptions in 7 different games, setting up field goals against Michigan in the Rose Bowl and Oregon, setting up the first Trojan TD against Washington and stopping potential scoring drives by Alabama and Arizona State. His 31-yarder to Michigan's 30 that set up a field goal came with eight seconds left in the first half.

And as a freshman Smith played 55 minutes and intercepted 2 passes against TCU.

Dennis went to Santa Monica, the same high school as USC's two-time All-American safety, Dennis Thurman (now a Dallas Cowboy) and there was named 1976 Co-CIF 4-A Player of the Year. He was also named to three of the four prep All-American teams (Coach & Athlete, Scholastic Coach, Joe Namath Magazine) and played two positions. As a defensive back he had 9 interceptions as a junior and 3 as a senior. As a senior wide receiver he caught 33 passes for 777 yards (25.3 average).

Nicknamed "Kojak" by his teammates, Dennis grins about his job as safety. "I'm there to make up for everybody's errors," he says. "I will say this, though. We're in the spotlight in the secondary. We either make the play or make the mistake. That's the way it looks to the fans anyway. There's no hiding."

Does he miss being a wide receiver?

"Nah. I'd rather be the guy doing the hitting than the guy getting hit."

Highly recruited, Smith explains his choice of USC as a school this way:

"Deep down inside I believe I always wanted to attend USC," he says, "although when I was younger I used to get mad because SC would always win. But when it came down to me choosing a univeristy, I said to myself, 'Do you want to go to a school that always loses to SC?'

"The answer was 'Hell, no.' And there you have it."

(34) JOE TURNER—6-2, 205, 20, Jr.

A transfer to USC last spring from Ventura Junior College, Joe goes into fall as a second team cornerback. He impressed John Robinson right away.

"Joe is an important addition to our team," says the coach. "He had as good a first spring as any JC defensive back I've seen in some time. He's physical, he's intelligent and he's got excellent athletic ability."

Turner played two years at Ventura, winning honorable mention All-Western States Conference honors at corner in 1979. He made 53 tackles that season, picked off a pass and blocked 2 punts which were run in for touchdowns. He was a quarterback at Dominguez High School and was switched to defense for the first time in the middle of his freshman year at Ventura.

A public administration major, Turner says he came to USC "to win a Rose Bowl and a national championship and because the university has one of the best public administration schools around."

(45) MARVIN WILLIAMS—5-10, 183, 20, So.

The fourth leading rusher in Southern California CIF history, Williams came to USC in the spring of 1979 having run for 4,553 yards in his career at Colton High School. He played both tailback and fullback in his senior season, rushing for 1,883 yards that year alone and scoring 22 touchdowns. He was named CIF Division II Player of the Year, as Colton won the Southeastern Conference title, and was also a Super Eleven selection on the Coach & Athlete All-American team.

Marvin played tailback his first spring at USC, but the coaching staff saw defensive potential in him and moved him to safety in the fall. Without much experience there, he played in one game as a freshman.

"Marvin is an excellent tackler who will play on all our special teams and as a backup safety," says John Robinson. "He's one of the most improved players on the team and has a fine future."

Interested in becoming a real estate broker, Marvin is enrolled in the College of Letters, Arts and Sciences. He was so loyal to Colton High that when his family moved closer to Los Angeles he stayed and lived in coach Don Markham's home so he could keep playing.

NEW PLAYER SKETCHES

(This group includes all players who enrolled in the fall of 1980, including 13 freshmen and junior college transfer Tom Jefferson.)

(86) MARK BOYER—Tight End, 6-5, 215

He could become an understudy of USC V-back Vic Rakhshani, an alumnus of the same high school, Edison High in the Orange County city of Huntington Beach . . . Named to the Coach & Athlete All-America squad and was an All-CIF Southern Section Division I first team tight end last year, as well as an All-California and All-Orange County selection . . . Grabbed a school record 48 passes for 707 yards and nine TDs (another school mark) and was the Sunset League Receiver of the Year . . . Joined with standout teammates Kerwin Bell, Frank Seurer and Bill Malavasi to lead a 12-2 Edison team to the Sunset League crown and the Big Five Conference title . . . Also played safety as a senior, with 17 tackles, one interception and two pass breakups . . . Named to the Best of the West prep team . . . Was the quarterback of Edison's frosh and sophomore teams and when quarterback Seurer broke his jaw in the 1978 opener, junior Boyer filled in to lead team to eight straight wins . . . Completed 49 of 96 passes his junior year for 692 yards and seven scores and was recruited by Stanford and BYU as a quarterback . . . Runs 40 in 4.7 . . . Also two-year starting center in basketball . . . "He's just an absolute can't miss player," said Edison coach Bill Workman.

(41) TONY BREWER—Defensive Back, 6-2, 185

He combines the leaping ability of Trojan Dennis Smith and the hard hitting of Trojan Ronnie Lott . . . Named All-Harbor League, All-South Bay, All-Centinela South Bay and Best of the West squad member . . . Had 43 tackles and nine interceptions from his defensive back spot for Gardena High . . . Also was a wide receiver, catching 11 passes for 300 yards (27.3-yard average) . . . Ran back two punts for scores . . . Had three interceptions and a 65-yard punt return in one game . . . Injury kept him idle during junior year . . . Is also an excellent high jumper, with a best of 6-9 . . . Has 4.8 speed in the 40 . . . Also recruited by UCLA, Arizona State, Washington, and Colorado, among others . . . "He's undoubtedly the most outstanding hitter in the league in the last five years," says his coach, Bill Partridge.

(58) JEFF BROWN—Inside Linebacker, 6-1, 225

A two-way player at Monache High in Porterville, Calif., last year, he was a first team All-Northern California choice at linebacker and first team All-League at fullback . . . Also named to Northern California Best of the West squad . . . Holds a number of school records, including most carries in a season (290), most yards rushing in a season (1,580), most touchdowns in a season (23), most yards rushing in a game (240), and longest run from scrimmage (94 yards) . . . Was first team All-League nose guard in 1978 . . . Runs the 40 in 4.8 . . . Can bench press over 300 pounds . . . Also is a fine baseball player . . . "Jeff has great natural ability," says Monache coach Dawrence Rice. "But best of all, he has a super attitude."

(57) KEITH BROWNER—Outside Linebacker, 6-6½, 210

He'll be the fifth Browner to play major college football, the others being former Notre Dame defensive end and Outland Trophy winner Ross, ex-Notre Dame defensive back Jim, Utah State senior fullback Willard, and current USC sophomore cornerback Joey . . . He didn't play football as a senior at Atlanta's Southwest High, concentrating instead on basketball . . . As a junior defensive end (playing with brother Joey), he made the All-Georgia AAA and All-City team and was the MVP on a 10-2 team . . . He scored four touchdowns on defense, including two in one game . . . Also played some outside linebacker, tight end and was placekicker . . . Runs the 40 in 4.7 . . . Could see action on Stan Morrison's Trojan basketball team as he was a two-time All-Georgia AAA center, last year averaging 16.4 points a game, a state-high 17.5 rebounds and 4.0 assists on an 18-7 team . . . Helped Southwest to a 24-6 mark and the state hoop title as a junior . . . Is also a fine baseball player, hitting .385 as a junior and .395 as a senior with five home runs and 27 RBIs, plus an 11-2 pitching record last two seasons . . . He's the fourth Southwest High player to attend USC recently, following ex-Trojan defensive tackle Butch Underwood and current members August Curley, a sophomore linebacker, and brother Joey.

(27) DARREL HOPPER—Defensive Back, 6-1, 175

He did it all for Los Angeles City runnerup Carson High, playing cornerback and wide receiver, as well as handling the punting and kick-off chores . . . Was named Co-City Player of the Year last season (with Banning High junior running back Michael Alo) . . . Set City career interception record with 21 thefts, breaking mark of 12 set by Wesley Walker, now a receiver with New York Jets . . . Other honors included selection to Best of the West squad (getting nine out of 10 votes), All-City first team, Marine League Co-Player of the Year (with Alo), All-South Bay and All-Centinela South Bay. . . As a senior, he intercepted 12 passes, deflected 16 others, had 40 solo tackles and 47 assisted stops . . . As a wide receiver, grabbed 14 passes for 416 yards (29.7-yard average) and five TDs . . . Returned 14 punts for 116 yards and four kickoffs for 64 yards . . . Also punted 37 times (43.3-yard average), with a long of 65 yards and an average hang time of 3.5 seconds, and kicked off 37 times, 15 of those reaching the end zone . . . In junior year, had 24 solo tackles, involved in 35 other tackles, nine interceptions (two for scores) and 16 pass breakups . . . Once picked up a short field goal attempt and returned it 100 yards for a TD . . . Runs 40 in 4.5.

(21) TOM JEFFERSON—Fullback, 6-3, 230

A transfer from San Diego City College, he'll enter USC as a sophomore and is expected to bolster the Trojans' fullback spot . . . Had a slight knee sprain and missed first few games last year for a 7-3 San Diego CC team . . . Came back to be a part-time starter at fullback and tailback and carried 31 times for 199 yards (6.42-yard average) and no TDs . . . Also used to messenger offensive plays from sideline to huddle . . . "Tom has a tremendous attitude and is a true team player," said Harry West, his coach at San Diego CC. "He has great hands and is an outstanding blocker. He's not intimidated by anyone because he has that good size" . . . He continues the tradition of talented players coming to USC from San Diego CC (those from the past included nose guard Harold Steele, tight end William Gay, linebacker David Lewis and offensive tackle Pete Adams) . . . Was a National High School Coaches All-American and member of Best of the West squad as senior tailback at Ontario High in 1978 . . . Also made All-CIF Division II second team, All-Pomona Valley and All-Hacienda League . . . Rushed for 1,344 yards (6.8 average) and 11 scores, hit four of six passes for 200 yards on option plays (including 80 and 60-yard touchdown bombs) and had a team-high six sacks as linebacker during senior year . . . Over three-year varsity career, he averaged more than 100 yards a game with 2,771 in 25 contests . . . Also lettered on basketball team.

(26) JOHN KAMANA—Wide Receiver, 6-3, 208

He's continuing the pipeline of fine USC players from Honolulu's Punahou High, the most recent being ex-Trojan fullback Mosi Tatupu, now with the New England Patriots . . . A leg injury cut short his senior year after just a few games . . . Was All-Hawaii flanker as sophomore and running back as junior . . . Moved from flanker to running back middle of junior season, but still finished third in league rushing, had best rushing average (8.4-yards a carry) and was top scorer with 84 points . . . In first game as tailback two years ago, he set school and Interscholastic League of Honolulu records for total offense (387 yards, including 200 yards rushing) . . . Also played some defensive back . . . "He's the greatest athlete to come out of Punahou," said Bob Smith, school's assistant football coach. "He's always been on the first team of every sport since he came to Punahou" . . . Earned a school record 11 varsity letters . . . Was twice All-Hawaii forward in basketball, leading team to state title last two years, and was state and league titlist in 100 and 200-meter dashes on Punahou's state champ track team as sophomore and junior . . . Has run league record 10.7 in 100 meters, 9.8 in 100 yards and goes 4.5 in 40 . . . His twin, Carter, a defensive back at Kamehameha High, is headed for Michigan State . . . His father, John, was a walk-on footballer at USC in the mid-1950s and a teammate of current assistant coach Marv Goux, who signed young John . . . Recruited by over 100 schools before narrowing choice to USC and Arizona State . . . Nicknamed "Squeeze."

(1) SCOTT LIVINGSTON—Placekicker, 6-0, 180

Comes to USC as a true student of the kicking game, having attended clinics by former Ram and current pro kicking tutor Ben Agajanian since he was 10 . . . He was a Best of the West choice and an All-Long Beach and All-Moore League pick last year at Lakewood High . . . Connected on five of 14 field goals, but six misses were from farther than 50 yards . . . Hit on field goals of 20, 30, 32, 38 and 46 yards as a senior, including three to win the game in season finale . . . Kicks soccer style . . . Handled punting duties, too, averaging 39.2 yards on 40 boots . . . Also kicked off and played some cornerback, with 4.9 speed in 40 . . . Spent sophomore and junior years at Malvern High in Arkansas, where he kicked eight field goals, including three game winners, and kicked off.

(14) JOHN MAZUR—Quarterback, 6-2, 195

A quarterback in the mold of just-graduated Trojan Paul McDonald, the left-hander made the Parade All-America squad last season . . . Also named to the All-Los Angeles City and All-Valley League first teams and was a Best of the West pick as senior at El Camino Real High in Woodland Hills . . . Completed 79 of 186 passes last year (42.5%) for 1,354 yards, 12 interceptions and 10 TDs . . . Threw scoring bombs of 67 and 65 yards . . . Also carried ball four times for 24 yards . . . Team went 9-1, losing in L.A. City semifinals to eventual champ Banning . . . Best game as senior came against rival Granada Hills, where he threw for 331 yards and three TDs, including four straight completions to drive team 90 yards in final minute-and-a-half for comeback win . . . Started as junior, too, throwing for more than 1,000 yards and firing nine scoring tosses, including five in one game . . . Team was 7-3 as junior, but undefeated in league play (he never lost league contest in two years) . . . Also All-Valley League baseball player as pitcher and power-hitting first baseman . . . Has grade point average of 3.5 (out of 4.0) . . . Runs 40 in 4.9 . . . "I have nothing but good things to say about John," says coach, Skip Giancanelli. "He's an intelligent young man who is very serious about his football when he gets on the field."

(52) MATT McLAUGHLIN—Center, 6-4, 235

Named to the Scholastic Coach All-America team as an offensive tackle at Santa Barbara High, alma mater of current USC tight end James Hunter . . . Also made All-Channel League first team and named to the Best of the West squad . . . Timed at 4.9 in 40 . . . Was also recruited by Colorado, UCLA, Washington and Notre Dame . . . Lettered two years on varsity basketball team . . . "Matt is an unusually powerful young man who has unlimited potential as a collegiate player," says Santa Barbara coach Mike Moropoulous. "Although he plays football in a very physical and aggressive manner, he's the proverbial gentle giant."

(76) DAVE PURLING—Defensive Tackle, 6-6, 215

Named to the All-Channel League first team as a defensive tackle at San Marcos High in Santa Barbara . . . Had 25 solo tackles, was in on 38 other tackles, had three quarterback sacks, blocked four passes and forced four fumbles . . . Also named to the Best of the West squad . . . Runs the 40 in 5.1 . . . "Dave is the best defensive tackle this school has produced," noted San Marcos coach Moe Clayton. "He's very dedicated and aggressive, is extremely good on the pass rush and uses his hands very well" . . . Will join two other alums of San Marcos now on Trojan team, fullback Doug MacKenzie and center Allen Pugh.

(77) KEN RUETTGERS—Offensive Guard, 6-6, 235

The biggest of the Trojan newcomers, he was an All-CIF Central Section offensive and defensive lineman his senior season at Garces High in Bakersfield . . . Also named to Northern California Best of the West team . . . Received those honors despite breaking ankle in next to last game . . .

Team was 7-3 last year, losing in first round of playoffs . . . Just played offensive line as junior . . . Was a center and forward on basketball team in junior year . . . Also threw shot and discus on track team for two years . . . Runs 40 in 4.9 . . . Was recruited as offensive lineman by USC, Nebraska, Notre Dame and Washington, and as defensive lineman by UCLA, California and Oregon.

(23) TODD SPENCER—Tailback, 5-11, 185

Picked up a slew of honors his senior season at El Cerrito High near Berkeley, Calif., including selection to Scholastic Coach and Parade All-America teams . . . Other laurels include unanimous three year All-Richmond-Berkeley Athletic League pick, Northern California Best of the West squad (only player to get 10 votes), All-Northern California, All-East Bay, San Francisco Examiner All-Bay Area, KDIA Player of the Year, Oakland Tribune Player of the Year, Richmond Independent Back of the Year and three-year member of the Richmond Independent Dream Team . . . In three years, he gained 3,666 yards and scored 37 touchdowns . . . He broke the school career rushing yardage record, the single season touchdown and total point marks, and the record for season and career total offense . . . He had four 200-yard games, including 248 yards and three touchdowns in the rain . . . Timed at 4.6 in the 40 . . . Was recruited by Colorado, Arizona State, Washington, Oregon, Cal and USC, among others . . . Also an All-League baseball player . . . "He has all the tools to be a great one," says El Cerrito coach Dennis Giuntini. "But he's bowlegged as heck!"

(82) NELSON WELLS—Tight End, 6-5, 225

Missed first half of senior season with a stress fracture in foot, but still named to Coach & Athlete All-America, All-CIF (San Diego), and All-Metropolitan League teams while at Castle Park High in Chula Vista . . . Also made Best of the West squad . . . Last year, he caught 18 passes for 382 yards and six TDs, and in one game as a junior, he had six catches for 187 yards and two scores . . . An excellent basketball center, too, leading team in scoring (17.2 points a game) and rebounding (11 a game) as a senior, making All-Metropolitan League second team . . . Scored 32 points and grabbed 18 rebounds in best game last season . . . Was basketball team MVP in junior and senior years . . . Threw shot and discus and ran 330-yard low hurdles on track team . . . Three year letterman in three sports (football, basketball and track) and never played on anything but varsity sport . . . Runs 40 in 4.7 . . . "He's truly a natural athlete," said Castle Park football coach Rolland Dawson . . . "He's probably the best big athlete to ever come out of this area. He blocks and catches well, and has amazing acceleration coming off the line. In fact, we had a lot of illegal procedure penalties called on us because he was so quick that our center couldn't snap the ball fast enough."

USC'S ATHLETIC HERITAGE

Since 1926 — when the track team won USC's first national championship — the Trojans have dominated the world of intercollegiate sport.

Trojan men's teams are No. 1 in the country in national championships with 63 — a total that is 25 more than the runner-up school. In addition, the football teams of John Robinson, John McKay and Howard Jones have been voted national champions on eight other occasions.

Here's the up-to-date list of USC national titles and the coaches who won them:

ORIGIN OF USC'S NICKNAME — TROJANS

USC's nickname, "Trojans," originated in 1912. Up to that time the University of Southern California teams were called the Methodists or Wesleyans, nicknames which were not looked upon with favor by university officials.

So, Warren Bovard, director of athletics and son of university president Dr. George Bovard, asked Los Angeles Times sports editor Owen Bird to select an appropriate nickname.

"At this time, the athletes and coaches of the university were under terrific handicaps," recalled Bird. "They were facing teams that were bigger and better-equipped, yet they had splendid fighting spirit. The name 'Trojans' fitted them.

"I came out with an article prior to a showdown between USC and Stanford in which I called attention to the fighting spirit of USC athletes and named them 'Trojans.' From then on, we used the term 'Trojan' all the time, and it stuck.

"The term 'Trojan' as applied to USC means to me that no matter what the situation, what the odds or what the conditions, the competition must be carried on to the end and those who strive must give all they have and never be weary in doing so."

HEISMAN SALUTE

MIKE GARRETT — 1965

Mike Garrett, USC's first Heisman Trophy winner — and only the second chosen on the West Coast — set an NCAA career rushing record (since broken) by running for 3,221 yards in his three-year career.

The popular Garrett won the Heisman over such outstanding 1965 collegians as Bob Griese, Floyd Little, Tommy Nobis, Jim Grabowski, Donny Anderson and Howard Twilly.

Garrett, Anthony Davis and Charles White are the only players to lead USC in rushing for three straight years. Mike later starred for the Kansas City Chiefs and San Diego Chargers.

HEISMAN SALUTE

O. J. SIMPSON — 1968

O.J. Simpson became USC's second Heisman Trophy winner in 1968 when he captured the award by the most one-sided margin in the history of the balloting.

During the regular 1968 season O.J. established an NCAA record for yards rushing — 1709 — in a single season (since bettered). He equaled or bettered no less than 13 USC records.

Simpson also holds the NFL single season rushing record of 2,003 yards set in 1973 and finished his 11-year pro career as the second leading NFL career rusher behind Jim Brown.

HEISMAN SALUTE

CHARLES WHITE — 1979

Charles White, USC's third Heisman Trophy winner, finished his four-year Trojan career as the NCAA's second leading rusher ever with 5,598 regular season yards. Including bowl games, he finished with a Pac-10 record 6,245.

A two-year unanimous All-American, White set or equaled 22 NCAA, Pac-10, USC and Rose Bowl records. He gained over 100 yards 31 times in his career, including 10 times in 1979.

In that senior season, Charlie averaged 186.4 yards a game, 6.2 yards a carry, led the nation in rushing, and, for the second straight season, led it in all-purpose running.

LOMBARDI SALUTE

BRAD BUDDE — 1979

In 1979, offensive guard Brad Budde became USC's first recipient of the coveted Lombardi Award, given to the nation's outstanding college lineman who also "best exemplifies the discipline of Vince Lombardi."

Budde was a unanimous All-American as a senior and was also runnerup in the Outland Trophy voting. A four-year starter at Troy, he was the first freshman to start a USC season opener since World War II.

The son of ex-Kansas City Chiefs All-Pro Ed Budde, Brad will follow his father there as the Chiefs' first-round draft pick in 1980.

LOMBARDI WINNERS

1970 Jim Stillwagon, Ohio State, DG/LB

1971 Walt Patulski, Notre Dame, DE

1978 Bruce Clark, Penn State, DT

1979 Brad Budde, USC, OG

OUTLAND SALUTE

RON YARY — 1967

Ron Yary is the only USC player to win the Outland Trophy, "the Heisman Trophy for linemen." The Outland award goes to the outstanding lineman in the nation and is selected by the Football Writers Association of America.

Yary was a two-time consensus All-American offensive tackle for the Trojans and was a unanimous All-American pick in 1967 when he won the Outland. The first player selected in the 1968 pro draft, he is now a perennial All-Pro with the Minnesota Vikings.

ALL-TIME LETTER WINNERS

Various standards have been used to determine USC letter winners over the years, but since 1976 squad members who have played at least 30 minutes have been listed here as lettermen.

There have been many exceptions to that rule, including kickers and others who contributed significantly to the team's success without playing 30 minutes.

In addition, senior squad members who have been on the team for several years have generally been awarded letters for their senior season, as long as they appeared in at least one game. This has been a long-standing policy.

THE UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

The University of Southern California, an educational enterprise of uncommon diversity and distinction, came into being in 1880. This academic year, the University celebrates its centennial celebration saluting the completion of its first century of teaching, research and service.

USC began with 53 students on October 6, 1880. They attended classes in a single, wooden building. A thousand persons, who represented 10% of the population of Los Angeles, were present for the laying of the cornerstone.

The University's Toward Century II program is nearing its conclusion. The program seeks, by June 30, 1981, $265,340,000 to advance the University's academic purposes. Because USC is an independent institution supported by private donors, it continues to offer many worthwhile opportunities for creative and significant philanthropy in the vital field of higher learning.

- USC, one of only 23 private leading research universities in the United States, is a member of the Association of American Universities, the most esteemed organization of academic institutions.
- Enrollment stands at 25,000, including 12,600 full-time undergraduates; 4,600 full-time graduate or professional students; 2,700 part-time undergraduates; 5,400 part-time graduate or professional students.
- USC provides Southern California with a significant portion of its professionals: 48% of the judges and 40% of the attorneys in Los Angeles County are USC graduates; more than 2,000 physicians, 13,000 engineers, 45% of the pharmacists, 60% of the social workers, dentists and school administrators in Southern California earned their degrees at USC.
- In the professions, USC has long been a leader. The University is the home of 21 professional schools which train specialists in fields ranging from medicine and law to architecture, education and library science. USC professional school graduates are serving society's needs in both the United States and hundreds of foreign countries.

- Its Division of Cinema and Schools of Social Work, Public Administration and International Relations are the oldest such schools in the country.
- In basic research, USC is also nationally and internationally prominent. Today, USC stands 19th among all colleges and universities nationally in total federal funding of research.
- In medicine, USC was one of only eight institutions originally invited to begin a comprehensive cancer research center.

JAMES H. ZUMBERGE

University President

James H. Zumberge is the ninth president of the University of Southern California. The former president of Southern Methodist University assumed the USC presidency in August, 1980. He succeeded Dr. John R. Hubbard, who retired after serving 10 years as president.

Dr. Zumberge becomes president as the University celebrates its Centennial Year.

Zumberge, 56, brings a distinguished record as a scholar, scientist, educator and administrator to the post.

His credentials as an educational administrator include service as president of Southern Methodist University from 1975 to 1980, chancellor of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln from 1972 to 1975, dean of the College of Earth Sciences at the University of Arizona from 1968 to 1972, and president of Grand Valley State College in Michigan from 1962 to 1968.

Zumberge was awarded his B.A. and Ph.D. in geology from the University of Minnesota, following service in the Marine Corps from March 1943 to December 1945.

He is the author of 10 books, including the widely used text "The Elements of Geology," and of more than 100 journal articles and papers given at national and international meetings.

A member of the Antarctic Advisory Committee to the U.S. Department of State, Zumberge is chairman of the Committee on International Polar Relations of the Polar Research Board of the National Academy of Sciences. He has been active as glaciologist and chief organizer for several Antarctic expeditions. Cape Zumberge, Antarctica, was named in his honor in 1960.

Other recognition includes the James H. Zumberge Library at Grand Valley State College, named in his honor in 1968. He holds three honorary degrees, an LL.D. from Grand Valley State College in 1979, an L.H.D. from Nebraska Wesleyan University in 1972, and an LL.D. from Kwansei-Gakuin University, Nishinomiya, Japan, in 1979.

In 1974, he was appointed by President Ford to a six-year term on the National Science Board. He is a member of the board of overseers of the Hoover Institution and chairman of the Visiting Committee of the General Motors Institute.

He also is a director of the Dallas Power and Light Co., the General American Oil Co., and Dresser Industries. He is also a member of the Navy League.

Zumberge was born in Minneapolis, Minn., on December 27, 1923. He is married to the former Marilyn Edwards, and they have four children, John, JoEllen, James and Mark.

DR. NORMAN TOPPING

University Chancellor

After twelve distinguished years as the seventh president of USC, Dr. Norman Topping announced his early retirement for reasons of health in spring, 1970.

Following the selection of Dr. John R. Hubbard to succeed Dr. Topping, the USC Board of Trustees invited the popular former president to remain on campus, serving in the post of University Chancellor. Dr. Topping accepted, and thus continues to serve his alma mater. He is the first alumnus to be USC's Chancellor.

The second alumnus to be president of the oldest major coeducational non-sectarian university in the West, Dr. Topping became USC's chief executive officer on Sept. 1, 1958.

He was graduated from USC in 1933 with a bachelor of arts degree and in 1936 with the degree of doctor of medicine.

He was the chief architect of USC's Master Plan for enterprise and excellence in education, announced in 1961 after a two-year study by trustees, administrators and faculty members.

Many distinguished men of learning were attracted to USC during his presidency and more than $235 million was given to the University for USC's Master Plan, exceeding the original goal of $106 million.

Dr. Topping came to the USC presidency after a distinguished 16-year career with the U.S. Public Health Service, climaxed by his appointment as an Assistant Surgeon General and associate director of the National Institutes of Health in Bethesda, Md.

He also was vice president for medical affairs at the University of Pennsylvania for six years immediately prior to returning to USC.

Dr. Topping developed the typhus vaccine used in World War II by more than 15,000,000 U.S., Canadian and British servicemen. The vaccine still is in use. He received the Bailey K. Ashford Award in 1943 and the U.S. Typhus Commission Medal in 1945.

USC: NO. 1 IN THE NFL

USC once again has the most players in the National Football League.

Last season there were 37 ex-Trojans on NFL rosters. Next best were Oklahoma with 31 and Colorado with 29.

Going into the 1980 season, USC had 62 players on pro teams, including 16 rookies. USC players are on the rosters of 27 of the NFL's 28 teams.

The bulk of the Trojan pros came from the two most talented classes in collegiate football history: those of 1975 (their last season was 1974) and 1977 (1976 season). Both these classes had 14 players drafted, an all-time NFL record.
